ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Every project contains an inner tale, which often remains untold. Between difficulties faced and solutions arrived at, there exists a string of situations demanding expression. In this way the mute inner voice has in it the possibility to constitute a long story. There are number of persons to whom I am grateful. All of them have contributed in the completion of this work and they deserve my sincere thanks.

First of all I offer my humblest obeisance to the Highest of the High and the Noble, Almighty Supreme Merciful Father for bestowing upon me unfailing blessing and giving me strength in every walk of this work. I bow my head in humility reverence to Him.

I have no words to express my deep sense of respect and gratitude to my revered supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Ira Das, Professor, Head, Department of Psychology, Faculty of Social Sciences, Dayalbagh Educational Institute (Deemed University), Dayalbagh, Agra, for her able guidance, valuable suggestions, sincere criticism and meticulous attention which enabled me to complete the course of this research. She has been a source of constant inspiration and encouragement throughout the research.

I am very grateful to all other respected teachers for their valuable suggestion and guidance whenever required.

My special thanks to Mr. H.S Srivastava (Deptt. of Psychology) for their willing co-operation and assistance in statistical analysis for this research work. I extend my thanks to Dr. Preetam Raj and Mrs. Sunita Sexena for being so co-operative and providing all the necessary material at every stage of my research work.

I am thankful to the Llibrarian of Dayalbagh Educational Institute, Central Library (Agra) and NIMHANS (Bangalore) for providing me an opportunity to consult the latest journals, books and freely use to online facility.

I am extremely beholden to my parents Mr. Ramesh Gurbaxani and Mrs. Sunita Gurbaxani who have been the pillar of strength in my life. They gave me emotional support to strive for the goal.
I cannot even repay the sacrifices and untiring help which my parents have rendered all through my life.

Words fill me to express my appreciation to my parents-in-law Mr. Dinesh Bhatia and Mrs. Kanchan Bhatia. Their persistence confidence in me, has taken the load of my shoulder. I owe them for being unselfishly supportive and understanding.

My sister Mrs. Bhawna and my brother in law Mr. Rajesh deserves special mention for their advice and their willingness to share their bright thoughts with me, which were very fruitful for shaping up my research. The optimism and confidence they have is contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. Thank you for being supportive and caring Bhavin.

Finally, most important thanks here to go to my husband Mr. Mayur Bhatia for taking my problems as his own, and helping me to overcome them, and encouraging to me achieve a high level. His love and support carried me through the roughest times. Thank you so much for your faithful love and help.

I am grateful to my little Daughter, Drishti Bhatia with her smiles and regular enquiries about my work alleviates the feel of guilt in pursuing this ‘selfish’ venture, even consoling me at times of despair.

I also thankful to my friends Gargi Sharma and Himani Anand who helped me at the time of completion of my research work.

Finally, I must express my gratitude to all those cooperated with me and extended the facilities in the course of this work. I regret if I failed to mention any of the names.

Lastly I shall be highly gratified if this work proves its usefulness.

Nidhi Gurbaxani