Acknowledgement

First of all I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my supervisor Professor Saraswati Raju for her unconditional support since the inception to the last stage of my research. It is her constant encouragement, positive criticism and valuable suggestions, which have kept me motivated throughout my work and helped me to bring it to the present shape. For me she is my mentor in every sense of the term.

I am grateful to Professors Amitabh Kundu and P. M. Kulkarni for sparing their valuable time most willingly whenever I faced problems, be they of conceptual or of statistical nature. I would also like to extend my sincere thanks to the faculty members who attended my Ph. D. pre-submission seminar and offered their critical comments.

It is my pleasant duty to acknowledge Dr. N. Sridharan, Professor, Department of Urban Planning, S.P.A., New Delhi whose support proved to be one of the strong points during my tenure as a researcher.

I would also like to place on record my gratitude to the staff members of various libraries such as HSMI, IIPA, ITPI, NCERT, NIEPA, NIUA, JNU, SPA, the World Bank in Delhi; CEPT, SPIER and GIDR in Ahmedabad and Institute for Economic Growth, Centre for Urban and Environment Studies in Hyderabad for the help extended. I would also like to acknowledge the help extended to me by Mr. Nigam at Census office who has provided me the data for metropolitan cities.

I am thankful to my friend Lalit Kumar who helped me at the most crucial stages of my thesis and encouraged me to complete it successfully. I would also like to thank my friend, Satyendra although distantly placed kept constant tab on the progress of my work.

I would also like to acknowledge the help of my friends Abhishek, Binod, Gagan, Rekha, Sandeep, Shweta who readily shared with me my worries, tensions, pressures and depression - not always in that order- to provide timely support. I am also thankful to my senior Mr. Sanjeeer Alam for enhancing my knowledge regarding the usage of statistical package.

I am grateful to ICSSR for providing me the partial assistance for research work.

My most earnest thanks are reserved for the common people- my respondents; government officials, councillors in Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation and Municipal Corporation of Hyderabad and members of civil society who opened their homes and hearts to my innumerable queries, doubts and inquisition. Without their help and support I would not have been able to accomplish my task.

Last but not the least, I am indebted to my parents, brother, sisters, jiju and other relatives for their support and constant encouragement.
