ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is not possible to acknowledge the enormous and significant contribution of a large number of people who have not only provided material for this research but also helped in shaping ideas from time to time. Among those whose contributions remain outstanding is my research guide DR. ASHWINI KUMAR RAY, Professor, Centre for Political Studies, School of Social Sciences, J. N. U., New Delhi, who devoted his resounding knowledge and vast experience in this research and patiently moulded my efforts into the present shape of this manuscript despite his pressing engagements. I am indeed profoundly indebted to him for his inspiration, affection, guidance and zeal that sustained my spirit to complete this research even in the face of heavy odds.

I am also grateful to Professor C.P. Bhambri; Professor S.N. Jha and Professor Balveer Arora, Chairman, Centre for Political Studies and other faculty members of the Centre for the Political Studies J.N.U. for their kind help and encouragement. My thanks are also due to Dr. Nandu Ram, Associate Professor, Centre for the Study of Social System, J.N.U., New Delhi.

It is my foremost privilege to offer my thanks to Prof. Dr. William B. Kelly, ex-Deputy Director General of the GATT; Ms. Dorothy I. Riddle from Department of International Studies, American Graduate School of International Management; Mr. Bernard Ascher, Director, Service Industries Affairs, US Trade Representative Washington DC and Dr. Jan Pronk, Former Deputy Secretary General of UNCTAD, who allowed me to attend their Seminars in India and provided literature and suggestions.
I would like to record my thankfulness to all my friends, Sundar, Madhubabu, Gaidhar, Ghaware, Ravi, Dr. Gade, Dr. Dalvi and many others for their timeworthy help and encouragement.

The present work was mainly carried out in the libraries of Jawaharlal Nehru University, Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, Indian Council of World Affairs, United Nations Information Centre, Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relations, National Council for Applied Economic Research, British Council and Research and Information System for the Non-Aligned and other Developing Countries. I acknowledge with thanks for ungrudging support, co-operation and assistance of the staff of these Libraries.

My thanks are also due to the different Embassies of Developed, Developing and Arab Oil Exporting Countries for supplying me necessary literature.

I also thank Mr. Ch. Venugopal who entered the entire manuscript with meticulous care and Narendra & Udai who helped me in checking this manuscript several times.

I am sure, this work would not have to the present shape without the constant encouragement of my wife NALINI who has been source of inspiration to me.

NEW DELHI
JULY, 1991

(TUKARAM I. KANDRAO FULZELE)