Acknowledgement

"First and foremost I would like to thank the Prime Mover Almighty in whom I have great faith."

Although it is difficult to thank everybody and interweave in words the genuine efforts made by the people directly or indirectly to make this thesis possible. I would like to take this opportunity to pen down my appreciation for a great number of people whose contribution in numerous ways immensely helped me to move towards my destination.

It gives me immense pleasure to express my sense of gratitude and respect to my mentor Dr. Javed N Agrewala, whose constant support, utmost patience, invaluable advice and guidance rekindled my interest for science from time to time. I will benefit for a long time to come from his sincerity, originality and truthfulness which has nourished my intellectual maturity. I admire and respect him for his amazing memory, thorough knowledge, constructive criticism and ability to analyze results. I thank him for whole hearted encouragement and thorough approach.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Dr. Girish Sahni, The Director, Institute of Microbial Technology, for providing excellent facilities and an ambient working environment at the Institute. His uncompromising quest for excellence significantly shapes everyone at the institute.

A Special thanks to Dr. Rajgopal for providing GFP labeled E.coli. I express my profound sense of gratitude to Dr. Roje and Dr. Mujumdar for their help extended to me whenever I approached them.

It gives me immense pleasure to convey my thanks to my lab colleagues Dr. Vijender, Dr. Jasdeep, Shweta, Gowthaman, Ramakrishna, Nargis and Fatima for their co-operation and valuable suggestions during the entire span of study. I owe my loving thanks to Suman, Yasmeena, Kartik, Amandeep, Fiza, Sarabjit, Vivek, Pankaj and Monika for creating a pleasant working atmosphere during my stay in the lab.

I am thankful Mr. Rajinder Dass for his efficient technical assistance in laboratory.

The helpful attitude of Dr. Neeraj Khatri irrespective of the time I approached him with requests for animal issuance, needs a special mention. I thank entire staff of Animal Facility of the Institute especially Bawa ji, Vinod ji and Late shri Braham Chand ji.

The congenial company of Feroz, Mamoon, Suhail, Arsheed, Mannan, Haider, Arshad, Aslam, Zeya and Fazal in hostel and especially our non-veg club deserve a special mention. I am short of words to justify their care, affection and untiring support showered by these very good friends. I will really miss the moments spent with them especially the non-veg parties which we had on weekends.

I owe my grateful attitude to Bilal Poshpuri, Rahid Ashraf, Ali Sopori, Rafeeq Ganie, Gayoor, Hilal Khaliq, Bilal, Javed, Nisar, Dr. Abid and Dr. Zahoor.

The kind support and co-operation rendered to me by the employees of the IMTECH family needs a special mention. The staff at the Bioinformatics Center, Library and administration deserves a special mention for all the help rendered at the hour of need.

During the progress of this work, I was blessed with company of genuinely nice people who have offered their selfless and untiring help. Friends like Sukhwinder, Rohan, Netrapal, Mahesh, Payal who have always stood by my side, encouraging me to travel this path smoothly.

The financial assistance provided by The Council of Scientific and Industrial Research in the form of research fellowship (Award No. 31/50 (206) 2004-EMR-1) throughout my tenure is duly acknowledged.

I owe deepest gratitude to my parents and other family members especially my brothers Ashraf, Irshad and Tahir, my sisters Hafiza, Shafiqa and Rafiqa for continuous and unconditional support of all my undertakings, scholastic and otherwise. They have been a source of great strength throughout my life. Without their affection, support, best wishes, love and care this work would not have been completed.

I would also like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

Finally and most importantly I would like to thank the Almighty Allah for giving me strength, belief and good health. It is under his grace that we all live, learn and flourish.
