Acknowledgements

I am deeply grateful to my supervisors Professor Kanchan Chopra and Professor Rashmi Agrawal for their invaluable support and guidance throughout this work. They gave me a lot of freedom to pursue my research and develop my own ideas. I express my profound sense of reverence to Professor Kanchan Chopra for her deep insights and constructive comments. I owe my most earnest gratitude to Professor Rashmi Agrawal for her incisive guidance and constant advice during my research.

My utmost thanks go to my advisors Professor K V Bhanumurthy and Dr Yamini Gupt for their valuable comments on particular aspects of the thesis.

This work was initiated while I was at the Institute of Economic Growth, Delhi. I convey my gratitude to Dr Vikram Dayal who gave me the time and opportunity to begin this work while we were still working on another assignment. I admire his distinguished helping nature. Thank you for your inspiration and advice on issues far beyond this research.

My special thanks to the staff of the library of the Institute of Economic Growth, especially Shampa Paul for helping arrange catalogues and journals needed from various libraries. Many thanks go to the staff members of the computer unit of the Institute for making it convenient to use the facilities in the unit. I extend my thanks to Parag Sharma for helping me with maps.

I gratefully acknowledge the valuable information shared by Mr V K Bugga, Chief Town Planner, Municipal Corporation of Delhi, and his team relating to the classifications of colonies in Delhi according to the Municipal Corporation of Delhi.
My thanks are also due to the faculty at the Department of Business Economics for their useful suggestions and comments during my pre-Ph.D seminar.

It is a pleasure for me to thank my good friends Sreekumar, Rajeev, Saudamini, Shilpa, Dolly Menon, Nilay Ranjan, Shalini and Kishore for their constant motivation and moral support. A warm word of thanks to Shashi, Chitranjan and Sandeep for assisting me in my field work.

A special thank you is reserved for Robert for a companionship of great value. I cannot thank you enough for your infinite patience, encouragement and support during the writing of this thesis. You have contributed immeasurably to the success of this work.

Last but by no means least, I wish to express my love and appreciation to my family for their understanding and endless support through the duration of this study. Ma and Papa were always besides me during the happy and hard moments to push me and motivate me. My brother and sister were always there when I really needed them. I doubt that I will ever be able to convey my appreciation fully, but I owe them my eternal gratitude.

Preeti Kapuria
July 2012