ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In recent years, research in Forensic Ballistics has come out of its embryonic stage. Being interdisciplinary and a group venture, research in Forensic Ballistics needs help, support and guidance from diversified sources. I am lucky in this respect for having received ample and unstinted cooperation from various institutions and individuals. It is difficult to make a mention of all of them here and express my grateful thanks. To get around this tight-corner, mentioned here are a prominent few without prejudice to the importance of the anonymous. Those few worked as a guiding spirit and helped to get my work through.

It was Dr. M. Jauhari, M.Sc., Ph.D., F.F.Sc., F.A.F.Sc., F.N.A.Sc., Director General, National Test House, Govt. of India, Calcutta (formerly Director, Central Forensic Science Laboratory, Govt. of India, Calcutta) whose persuasion and insistence for academic rigour filled me with enthusiasm and enabled to complete the research work. Whenever I faced any complex situation in the course of my study, it was he who inspired me to carry on and added zest to what I was doing. His untiring efforts and keen interest in the study have made it possible for me to complete the present course of investigation in a systematic manner and I wish to record here my profound gratitude to him.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. G.C.Jain, Ph.D., Professor & Head, Department of Criminology and Forensic Sciences, Dr. Harisingh Gour Viswavidyalaya, Sagar whose inspiration and invaluable guidance have been available to me at all stages of the present study.

The friendly involvement and occasional guidance of Dr. B. Bhattacharya, Director-in-charge, Central Forensic Science Laboratory, Calcutta has always been a source of encouragement.
Sri S.M. Chatterjee, Sri A.Sen, Sri A.K. Pal and Sri P. Murmu of Central Forensic Science Laboratory, Calcutta provided invaluable technical assistance for which I am thankful to them. The excellent co-operation and timely advice of the staff of the Department of Criminology and Forensic Sciences of Dr. Harisingh Gour Viswavidyalaya, Sagar, particularly Dr. D. Mukharya and Dr. H.S. Maheswari deserve special mention. I am grateful to the Director General, Bureau of Police Research & Development, New Delhi for permitting me to submit the thesis.

At a more personal level, my old father deserves special gratitude for having shared his legal background as a retired District and Sessions Judge and for offering moral support at every stage. My wife showed immense patience and understanding and proved to be a pillar of strength during the entire period of work.

[Signature]
29.1.90
(M.S. Ch.)