A journey is easier when you travel together. Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. This Thesis is result of four and half years of work whereby I have been accompanied and supported by many people. It is pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my gratitude for all of them.

I would like to thank my guide Dr (Mrs.) Archana Mehta who monitored my work and took effort in reading and providing me with valuable comments on earlier versions of this thesis.

This work would have not been possible without the support and encouragement of my co guide and my teacher Dr. (Mrs.) Priti Somal. I have been in her project since 2003 when I started my MSc assignment. During these years I have known Dr. Somal as a sympathetic and principle centered person. Her overly enthusiasm and integral view of research, has made a deep impression on me. She could not even realize how much I have learnt from her. I owe her lots of gratitude.

I would also like to thank Prof. Pradeep Mehta who kept an eye on the progress of my work and always was available when I needed his advices. I am indebted to Prof. S.P. Bajpai for all the help he has extended.

My laboratory seniors at IIIM made it a convivial place to work. In particular, I would like to thank Jasbir Sir, Shimlu ji, Prithavi ji and Kaushaul Bhaiya for their help in the past four and a half years. They all inspired me in life through our interactions during the long hours in the lab. Thanks.

The whole group substantially contributed to the development of this work. Especially Dr. G. N. Qazi for permitting me to avail the facilities available in IIIM. I would like to thank Dr. P.R. Sharma for helping me in performing electron microscopy of my culture. I am thankful to Dr. R. B. N Prasad, Dr. S. Kanji Lal and Mrs. K. Bindu for conducting GC analysis of my samples.

I am indebted to student colleagues for providing a stimulating and fun environment in which to learn and grow. I am especially grateful to Mr. S K Venu Gopal for sheer endless computer problem solving and sharing literature with me. Mr. Ashish Pratap Singh, Mr. Venu Gopal and Ms. Surabhi Naik for helping me get through the difficult times and for all the emotional support, entertainment and caring they provided. I am also thankful to Mrs Sandeep Kour and Dr. Preeti Sharma. I thank Ms. Monika and Ms. Madhunika for having shared the same room with me. I thank Major Ritu Sharma for lending me her Kinetic. My thanks are due to Mr. Shiddarth, Mr. Jitu, Mr. Atanu, Mr. Kirtimaan, Ms. Rohini, Ms. Shruti, Ms. Luxmi and Ms. Dola. My stay at Sagar would have not been possible without their help. I thank each and every person of IIIM as in one or the other way they have contributed to completion of this thesis.

I would thank my teachers who have taught me in my high school undergraduate, graduate and post graduate classes. For their kind assistance with writing letters, giving wise advice, helping with various applications and so on.

My deepest gratitude goes to my family for their unflagging love and support throughout my life; this thesis is simply impossible without them. I am indebted to my father Er. I. K. Arjuna for his care and love. As a typical father he worked industriously to support the family and spare no effort to provide the best possible environment for me to grow up and attend school. I cannot ask for more from my mother, Mrs. Prabha Sharma, as she is simply perfect. I have no suitable word that can fully describe her everlasting love to me. I remember many sleepless nights with her accompanying me. Mummy, I love u. I feel proud of my sister Avantika, for all her talents. I remember her constant unconditional support when I encountered difficulties.

Especially I would like to give special thanks to my husband Capt. Vijay Sharma whose patient love and support enabled me to complete this work. He has been one of my best counselors. He really had to face lot of inconveniences due to my preoccupation.

The chain of my gratitude would be definitely incomplete if I would forget to thank the first cause of this chain, The prime mover. My deepest and sincere gratitude for inspiring and guiding this humble being.

Anania Arjuna
