“Thank you for showing me that there are people like you in this World………Really, you made this day possible………”

A journey is easier when you travel together. Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. This thesis is the result of almost four years whereby I have been accompanied and supported by many people. It is a pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my gratitude for all of them. This is an impossible task. I am going try it any way, and if your name is not listed, rest assured that my gratitude is not less than for those listed below.

“Guru and God both are here to whom should I first bow. All glory be unto the guru path to God who did bestow…”

With a deep sense of gratitude, I wish to express my sincere thanks to my supervisor, Dr. Neelam Choudhary, Professor, Department of Economics, M.D. University, Rohtak, for immense help in planning and executing the work in time. The confidence and dynamism with which Prof. Neelam Choudhary guided the work requires no elaboration. Her overly enthusiasm and integral view on research and her mission for providing ‘only high quality work and not less than that’, has made a deep impression on me. I owe her lots of gratitude for having shown me this way of research. What I have known today about the process of research, I learned from Prof. Neelam Choudhary. Besides of being an excellent supervisor, during these years, I have known Prof. Neelam Choudhary as a honest, sympathetic and principled person. Her company and assurance during the time of crisis would be remembered lifelong. I am very thankful to God that I had the opportunity to work under her admirable supervision and that she could aboard several hours at a stretch at any time to boost my research.

I specially thank to Dr. Kavita Chakravarty, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, M. D. University Rohtak for her kind cooperation and permit me to use departmental facilities to do the research work. I am very grateful to Prof. S. B. Dahiya, Dr. Rajesh kumar, for their constant advice and encouragement.

I would also like to express my gratitude and thanks to Dr. Ashok Kumar Chauhan, Ass. Professor, Department of Economics, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, for encouraging and giving idea of modern method during my M.Phil.

I am under an obligation to Dr. Subhash C. Ray, Professor, Dept of Economics, University of Connecticut for lending their treasured material and purposeful suggestions at IIT Mumbai for providing basic knowledge about advance technique used in present study and enriching its substance. I would like to acknowledge the help given to me by Dr. Sunil Kumar, Punjab School of Economics, Faculty of Economics and Business, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar related to practical application of the technique used in the present study.

I also express my thanks to the non teaching staff members in the department particularly Mr. Nitin, Mr. Jogender, Mr. Harjinder and Mr. Karimbir, for their friendly behaviour.

I express my sincere gratitude to my school colleague for sparing their valuable time for discussion, moral boosting, encouragement and help in various ways.

My sincere thanks are also due to authorities of library of the M. D. University, Rohtak; Institute of Economic Growth (IEG), Delhi; Ratan Tata Library (RTL). DSE, Delhi; Institute of Management Studies and Research (IMSAR), Rohtak; Central Library, University of Delhi, Delhi; Punjab University Chandigarh for extending their full cooperation by making available the material required for laying the foundation of the study.

I cannot forget to thanks my friends Dr. Lalit Sharma, Mr. N. C. Gautam, Mr. Yogender, Mr. Vijay Sharma, Mr. Gourav, Mr. Dal Singh and my dear juniors who provided me ample help which I cannot express in my words.

No words can adequately express my gratitude to my family. I feel deep sense of gratitude for my parents who formed part of my vision and taught me the good things that really matters in life. I am indebted to my parents and Brothers (Pardeep & Pankaj) for always being there for me and for always believing in me. I owe to me wife Sonia for their silent prayer and support for my works. I am also very thankful to my nephews (Tushar, Mansi, Sanyam & Ujjawal) for their naughty behavior to relax me out of tension during the course of work. Last of all, I express my indebtedness to all those who have not been explicitly mention above but have been working ceaselessly behind the scene and have made a substantial contribution to this exercise. The chain of gratitude would be definitely incomplete if I would forget to thank almighty of God. Ultimately the God is behind all success, human beings only plan but results are attributed to him; hence my most ‘pranamas’ in his feet for this humble work.
