ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The writing of this thesis has been one of the most significant academic challenges I have ever had to face. I am grateful to “THE ALMIGHTY” for his blessings and granting me the strength to overcome obstacles in completing this research.

This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my friends, colleagues and various other peoples. At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

Without the support, patience and guidance of the following people, this study would not have been completed. It is to them that I owe my deepest gratitude.

At this moment of accomplishment, first of all I am extremely indebted to my guide Prof. Sant Prakash, Head, Department of Zoology, Dayalbagh Educational Institute, for his guidance, support and encouragement. Under his guidance I successfully overcame many difficulties and learned a lot. His wisdom, knowledge and commitment to the highest standards inspired and motivated me. I am very much thankful to him for picking me up as a student.

I warmly thank Dr. Alka Prakash for her valuable advice, motivation, constructive criticism and guidance during laboratory work.

I would like to thank my teachers Prof. A. K. Sinha, Prof. K. K. Dua, Dr. C. N. Srivastava, Dr. Soam Prakash, Dr. Dayal Prasad, Dr. Shabd Preet, Dr. Lalit Mohan, Dr. Reshma for constant support and encouragement at different stages of my work.

I gratefully acknowledge Dr. Chitra Srivastava Sen. Scientist, Entomology Division, IARI, PUSA, New Delhi. for her understanding, encouragement and personal attention which have provided good and smooth basis for my Ph.D. tenure. She deserves my sincere expression of thanks for providing me experimental hands-on-training on different aspects of red flour beetle culture and insecticide treatment. I owe gratitude to Dr. Reema Sharma who willingly devoted so much time in giving guidance to me.

It’s my pleasure to acknowledge my seniors Dr. Preeti Bhatnagar, Dr. Ravi, Dr. Neeti, Dr. Ritu Arora, Dr. Prateek Pandya for their constant moral support and valuable suggestions.

My special appreciation goes to Dr. Priyanka Gautam for her friendship and encouragement.
I wish to thank my best friends, Rachna and Dr. Madhuri for her love, care and moral support. I also wish to thank Vishal, Satguru, Ruchi, Nitika di, Reena di, Amit bhaiya and Kiran bhabhi for their encouragement during this study.

I would also like to extend huge, warm thanks to my juniors, Tulika, Biresh, Pooja, Monika, Shivangi, Gopal, Shashi, Manisha, Shrankhla, Shivani, Shweta, Utpala, Garima, Mahima, Himani Anand for their love and support. Anjali deserves special mention here for her constant support, love, motivation and help.

I also thank Dr. Kiran Satsangi, Mrs. Manju for their help.

Special thanks to Bhagat bhaiya for their help in laboratory experiments.

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to give special thanks to-

My parents Mrs. Radha and Mr. S. V. Singh Pradhan who have always supported, encouraged and believed in me, in all my endeavors’ and who so lovingly and unselfishly cared for me. I love them so much. I would like to give a warm thanks to my sisters Himani and Divya and my brother Abhishek for their love, care and support.

Mr. Jaipal Singh and Mrs. Vidhya, my in-laws, for their encouragement and profound understanding.

Mr. Ajay Chhoker, my husband, without whom this effort would have been worth nothing. His love, support and constant patience have taught me so much about sacrifice, discipline and compromise.

Misthi, my lovely daughter, who was born before this thesis was completed and who spent many days with my mother and sisters to allow me to focus. I am deeply sorry for the time we spent apart.
