ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I bow my head before the Almighty God and my Guru Lord Shiva with whose grace and beatitude I moved through this Venture. I offer my heartfelt gratitude to the Supreme God and Guru Shiva for giving me the right inspiration at right time, blessing me with good fortune and making me contact the right people in my life in making me move towards the goal of life.

I specially thank my supervisor, Prof. (Dr.) Rajendra P. Agarwal, Vice Chancellor, Shobhit University, Meerut, the pillar and backbone of my research work for very considerate and able guidance. Regular discussion with him and motivation vision made my Ph. D. a successful effort. He has taught important things that I used to ignore at preliminary stage of my work. I thank him from the core of my heart for all his hard work, positive inspiration and motivation that made the research successful. He spared a lot of time for my research, giving valuable inputs and took great pains to see the work through.

I wish to express my gratitude and respect to Prof. (Dr.) A.K. Sharma, Dean YMCA University Of Science and Technology, Faridabad. His valuable guidance, unflagging interest, supervision and motivation urge instilled in me to accomplish the goals. His valuable inputs and guidance throughout the tenure of my research work made my efforts successful.

I would like to extend my regards to external supervisor Dr. Shwetank Arya, Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science, Gurukula Kangri Vishwavidyalaya, Hardwar, who helped me at every stage of research work with regards to minute details.

My sincere thanks to Mr. Pawan, Mr. Pankaj, teaching and non teaching staff members for their unconditional support for providing necessary facilities. Besides this, there are several other people who have knowingly or unknowingly helped me for the successful completion of the work. I thank all those people for their efforts.

I wish to express my gratitude and respect to Dr. Shobhit Kumar, Chairman, and Honorable Kunwar Shekhar Vijendra, Chancellor, Shobhit University, Meerut for blessings, constant unconditional support, inspiration and for providing all out support for my work.

I am deeply indebted to the unconditional love and support given by my parents, Shri. J. P. Gupta, Smt. K. D. Gupta, children, Chiranjeeve and Yasachandra, and husband, Shri. Mukesh Bansal. Without their selfless support and encouragement, I could not have come to this stage of life. They relieved me of all the family responsibilities to pursue a higher cause. Their ever well wishing nature inspired my commitment and ushered a fresh life into my efforts.

With my sincere apology, if I could not mention anyone.
