ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Writing this piece gives a great sense of relief as the very long, arduous and seemingly never ending pursuit for the degree of Ph.D. is about to bear fruits. Philosophically it is said that there is divine intervention behind everything. In my case, this divine intervention came in the form my guide Prof. R. D. Mulia sir. Entire credit of my initiating, sustaining and completing this work goes to him.

I would be failing in my duty, if I do not thank my guide Prof. R. D. Mulia, Former Head, Department of Education, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad. He carefully supervised my work and gave me due guidance in different stages of my research. He constantly encouraged me in my work. Thanks to his encouragement the thesis has seen the light of the day.

Whatever the quality and utility one may find in this piece of work is entirely due to Mulia sir's guidance, and the mistakes leftover are due to me only. Here, I take this opportunity to tender my apology to Mulia sir that inspite of his near perfect guidance, I took so long to complete the work.

I take this opportunity to sincerely thank the managements, principals, teachers and students of all the schools for their support in my work.

I also acknowledge the wholehearted support and assistance extended by the Dean Dr. Veenaben Patel, and faculty members of of Kadi Sarva Vishwavidyalaya, Gandhinagar.

How can I forget the support given by Mr. Nilesh Kapadia, (Principal H. B. Kapadia College of Education) in entire work process. He is the person who inspire and encourage me to finish this work.

Before I forget , I wish to thank Mr. Sandip N. Uapdhyay for his assistance provided in keying in all the responses, scoring them, subjecting the data to various statistical analysis and coming up with the required values, typing the matter, preparing the tables, charts and doing everything to make this work presentable in the form of thesis.

I also thank everyone particularly my colleagues who has directly or indirectly supported me in my work.
Last but not the least, I am indebted to my parents, True credit of my reaching such a milestone in my career goes to my beloved husband (Harish Sarang), my mother Ushaben, my son (Nisarg) and my daughter in law (Bhumika), without whose support and encouragement, the present research study would not have been possible. And how can I forget my quite grand son Viaan (Chiku) whose smiley face make me refresh after heavy work.
