A journey is easier when you travel together

Interdependence is certainly more valuable than independence. This thesis is the result of four and half years of work, whereby I have been accompanied and supported by many people. It is a pleasant aspect that I have now the opportunity to express my gratitude to all of them.

The first person I would like to thank is my Supervisor, Prof. Y.S. Thakur. His overly enthusiasm and integral view on research and his mission for providing only high-quality work and nothing less, has made a deep impression on me. I owe him lot of gratitude for having me shown this way of research. He could not even realize how much I have learned from him. I am really glad that I got to know Prof. Y.S. Thakur in my life.

I would like to thank my promoter and connoisseur Dr. Subhash Arya, who kept an eye on the progress of my work and was always available when I needed his advice. His help started from the first day of this thesis and never stopped until the end of the thesis. I have to acknowledge his important inputs in all chapters of this thesis and an especial thanks to my aunt ‘Rekha Arya’ for her continuous support.

I feel a deep sense of gratitude for mother ‘Urmila Arya’ and my father ‘Satish K Arya’ who formed part of my vision and taught me the good things, that really matters in life, specially for supporting me during education and their love.

Thanks to my mother in law ‘Usha Samanpure’, my father in law ‘Kishor Samanpure’, my sister in law ‘Kanchan Arya’, my sister ‘Aparna Arya’ and my brother ‘Sanjeev Arya’ for their extended support.

In my opinion, doing PhD is a sacred task and this was definitely one of the best decisions of my life. Additional energy and vitality for this research was provided externally through my involvement in several social activities.

One of the most important persons who has been with me in every moment of my PhD tenure is my wife, Dr. Rupali Arya. I would like to thank her for the sacrifices she made to support me in undertaking my doctoral studies. By providing her steadfast support in hard times, Dr. Rupali has once again shown the true affection and dedication she always had towards me, and especially teaching me that ‘when we fight for something we really want, we can achieve it.’

After having worked in IT industry for more than 6 years, I was very keen to pursue my doctoral research. I thank HCL Technologies for elevating my knowledge and enriching my professional life in various ways.
Finally and most importantly, I thank the almighty God under whose grace we live, learn and flourish.
