1. Declaration by the candidate
2. Certificate of the Supervisor
3. Acknowledgement
4. List of Contents
5. List of Tables
6. List of Figures and Graphs

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I – INTRODUCTION

1. RESEARCH CONTEXT AND ORGANISATION OF STUDY 01
2. DEVELOPMENT OF INDIAN CAPITAL MARKET 02
   (i). Opening the cage: Unleashing a New era in the Indian Capital Market 08
   (ii). Change of mindset of Indian investors: from Physical to Financial assets. 11
3. INITIAL PUBLIC OFFERINGS (IPOs) IN INDIAN CAPITAL MARKET 14
   (i). Issuance process of IPOs in India 15
   (ii). Recent measures (1998-2001) to improve the sentiments by tightening the rules 18
4. INDIA’S STOCK EXCHANGES: BSE AND NSE 34
   (i). BSE: India’s oldest and largest Stock exchange 36
   (ii). NSE: Technology Driven Stock Exchange 43

CHAPTER-II REVIEW OF LITERATURE 52

1. Post listing pricing behaviour of IPOs 53
   (i). Underpricing due to conservative policy of regulatory bodies 53
   (ii). Impresario theory of underpricing 54
   (iii). Asymmetric information theory 55
   (iv). Signalling models 57
   (v). Investment bankers prestige hypothesis 57
   (vi). The efficient market hypothesis 58
   (vii). Risk-Averse underwriter hypothesis 59
   (viii). Speculative-Bubble hypothesis 59
(ix). Underpricing as a form of Insurance 60

2. Factors associated with pricing of IPOs 62
   (i). Short run and long run rate of returns on IPOs 62
   (ii). Par and premium issues 63
   (iii). Issue size 63
   (iv). Market phases 64
   (v). Role of secondary market trends 64
   (vi). Uncertainty in after market and IPOs pricing 65
   (vii). Fad behaviour and pricing of IPOs 65
   (viii). The effect of listing delay on IPOs pricing 66
   (ix). Firm allotment to Mutual Funds and pricing of IPOs 67
   (x). Day-of-the week effects in the long run performance of IPOs 68
   (xi). Regression analysis 68

   CHAPTER III – RESEARCH METHODOLOGY 70

   1. Sample Methodology 72
   2. Procedure 73
   3. Research Questions and Hypotheses 75

   CHAPTER IV – RESULTS 77

   CHAPTER V – INTERPRETATION AND DISCUSSION 131

   SUMMARY 150

   REFERENCES 155