Acknowledgements

Conducting this research project involved the support and encouragement of many people. With a deep sense of gratitude, I would like to express my appreciation in particular to my dear supervisor, Professor P. F. Patil for his invaluable guidance, articulate assistance and support. I am greatly thankful for his patience while going through my drafts meticulously and for his valuable and perceptive comments and suggestions which kept me on the right track.

I sincerely wish to thank Professor Dr. Bajrang S. Korde, Head of the Department of English for his constant support and cooperation. My thanks are also due to former Head of the Department of English, Professor Aniket Jaaware for extending his timely help and cooperation particularly in official matters. Further, I am immensely grateful to Professor R. Raj Rao for all his encouragements and constructive suggestions. The cooperation I received from the administrative staff of the Department of English, Mr. Narendra Shingate and Ms. Vinny D. Paul is gratefully acknowledged. My special gratitude is due to Mr. Anil Patil who kindly made the Department library sources accessible for me.

Last but not least, this thesis would not have been completed without the constant support and understanding of my family particularly my parents. They have always stood by me during difficult and challenging times. Their prayers have always made me feel more secure, confident and determined. My special heartfelt appreciation also goes to my wife, Leila Farahiyan, whose inspiration, patience, and valuable suggestions from the beginning to the end of this research project paved the way for me. Of course, despite all the assistance provided by all the above people, I alone remain responsible for the content of this thesis, including any errors or omissions that may unwittingly remain.
