Pursuing a Ph.D. project is both an enjoyable and a creative experience. It is just like climbing up a high peak, one step at a time, accompanied with commitments, hardships, optimism, encouragement and fulfilment, with the help of so many people. When I found myself at the top enjoying the beautiful scenery, I realised that it was, in fact, a teamwork that got me there. However it will not be enough to express my gratitude in words to all those people who have helped me, I would still like to give my thanks to all these people.

At the outset I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my Research Guide Dr. V. Chanthiramathi, Assistant Professor of English, V. O. Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi who accepted me as her Ph.D. scholar without any hesitation. Her encouragement and personal guidance have provided me with a good base for this research. I have been fortunate to have such a research guide who gave me full freedom to explore the research on my own and at the same time gave guidance when my study deviated.

I would like to show my gratitude at this juncture to Dr. T. Lilly Golda, Assistant Professor of English, A. P. C. Mahalakshmi College for Women, Thoothukudi and Dr. P. Shashikala, Assistant Professor of English, V. O. C. Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi for their timely help in proof reading. Their friendship and unselfish help enabled me to present my dissertation with confidence.

It is a matter of pleasure to record my sincere thanks to Dr. P. K. Kalyani, Professor and Head Department of English, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University for her needful help.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to our well wisher, and family friend Dr. D. Raju, Assistant Professor in History, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli for his constant support right from undergraduate level of my studies.
I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the librarians of Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, SCILET, American College, Madurai, U. S. Consulate Library, Chennai and various University Libraries.

Last but not the least, I am greatly indebted to my devoted and lovable husband Dr. M. Muthukkumar, my children M. S. Ajay Perumal and M. S. Ajitha who gave constant encouragement and support for the past three years while I had been doing my research. They instilled in me the positive attitude and strength which finds a place in this research. A mere expression of gratitude would not suffice to the inspiration that they have given me.

This research work is dedicated in memory of my father Shri. S. R. Murugan Deputy Superintendent of Police, Government of Tamilnadu.

I acknowledge with gratitude, the benevolence of all the relatives and friends who helped me in completing this research work.
