ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would never have been able to finish my dissertation without the guidance of my committee members, help from friends, and support from my family.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude and indebtedness to my Guide and mentor, Prof. M.A.Vijayalakshmi, for her excellent guidance, commitment and enthusiasm and providing me with an excellent atmosphere for doing research.

I take this opportunity to sincerely thank and acknowledge Dr. Vijayakrishna Kari, Associate Professor, SAS, VIT University for all his valuable suggestions and scientific inputs. His unflinching support and help have been very instrumental in shaping this thesis.

My heartfelt thanks to Prof. Yves Gnanou, Dean, Physical Sciences and Engineering, King Abdullah University of Science and Technology, Saudi Arabia for providing me an opportunity to undertake initial training for three months on polymer synthesis with his team in Laboratoire de Chimie des Polymères Organiques, Ecole Nationale Supérieure de Chimie & de Physique de Bordeaux, Pessac, France. His scientific suggestions have been very insightful and helpful in shaping this work.

It is indeed a privilege to acknowledge my gratitude to my doctoral committee members, Dr Ashok Kumar Das, Medical Superintendent, Department of Medicine, JIPMER, Pondicherry and Prof. M. Udayakumar, Chairman, Department of crop Physiology, University of Agricultural Sciences, Bangalore who have been a tremendous source of inspiration for me and for their valuable suggestions.

It is with pleasure I thank Dr V. Krishnan, Associate Professor, Centre for Bioseparation Technology (CBST), VIT University for his keen interest in my work and also for his constant support and help in times of need.

I thank Department of Science and Technology (DST), Govt. of India, India for the financial support and VIT University, Vellore, India for providing my research fellowship.

It would be incomplete without expressing my gratitude to all my friends and colleagues-and some who were both- for all the help (moral, material and such other kinds as might exist) that they have given with pursuance and helping in the completion of this thesis.

I record my profound thanks to my mother and my brother-in-law and my husband for their love, support, understanding and sacrifice all these years.

Finally, I must thank my elder sister for her constant encouragement and her strong believe in me, which made it possible for me to complete this journey. Thank you Anisha.
