ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I show my deep sense of gratitude to my virtuous supervisor Prof. Konsam Saratchandra Singh, Head, Department of Anthropology, Manipur University, Canchipur - Imphal, for his excellent guidance, unending encouragement and constant inspiration in the preparation and presentation of this Doctoral Thesis. The success of the thesis would have not been possible without his committed assistance in all the stages of the study.

I owe my thanks to Late Dr. S.C. Pal and Dr. S.K Bhattacharya, the Directors of National Institute of Cholera and Enteric Disease - a World Health Organisation collaborating Centre, Calcutta and Dr. S. Panda and Ashokkumar Agarwal of ICMR Field Unit, Imphal, for extending me necessary facilities and technical supports during the course of my study.

My thanks are also due to the Director, Department of Science, Technology and Environment, Govt. of Manipur, for awarding me a Doctoral Research Fellowship for the purpose of the present study.

I am also thankful to Dr. Manglem Pamei (M.B.B.S.) and Dr. H. Diamond Sharma (M.B.B.S.) for their assistance in gathering clinical data from the field throughout the study. My thanks are also due to Dr. Ng. Brajachand Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology, RIMS, Dr. I. Ibopishak Singh, Chief T.B. Officer, Govt. of Manipur, for their valuable comments and suggestions with their moral supports in the study.
Special thanks also goes to Dr. Khomdon Lisam, Director, The State AIDS Control Society, Manipur, for providing me the Reports on the Epidemiological Analysis of the State AIDS Cell and allowing me to use it as reference in the present study.

Finally, I must thank my study subjects and the members of their family for their co-operation and support extended to me during my field works. I hope that the knowledge gained out of the counselling services during the study period may help them in reducing the risk for HIV infection in future. I also acknowledge the helps extended to me by New Life, Life Line Foundation, Dawn, Light House, New Hope, SASO and Manipur Central Jail during my study period.

Last but not the least, I extend my thanks to Mr. Salam Baleshwar Singh, Principal and the other staff of the Accelerated Computer Learning Centre, Uripok, Imphal for their untiring efforts in typing out the Thesis.
