ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me immense pleasure to record my deep debt of gratitude and appreciation for Dr. C.V. Cheriyan, former Professor and Head, School of International Relations and former Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, M.G. University, Kottayam who has patiently guided this doctoral thesis. Without his constant guidance and unfailing encouragement this study would not have been possible. I take this opportunity to express my profound indebtedness for his kind support throughout the course of this study.

I am deeply grateful to Dr. G.P. Ramachandra, Director, School of International Relations, M.G. University, Kottayam for his constant encouragement during the course of this research work.

My sincere thanks are also due to the other members of the faculty and the staff of the office and library of the School of International Relations, M.G. University for the help rendered by them.

My sincere thanks are due to the concerned authorities of the following Libraries for allowing me the use of their Libraries: Jawaharlal Nehru University Library (New Delhi), Indian Council of World Affairs Library (New Delhi), Parliament Library (New Delhi), United Nations Library (New Delhi), Nehru Memorial Museum Library (New Delhi), Indo-Soviet Cultural Centre Library (New Delhi), USSR Embassy (New Delhi), Indian Institute of Regional Development Studies (Kottayam), Centre for Development Studies (Trivandrum), Kerala University Library (Trivandrum), Public Library (Trivandrum), Department of Political Science Library, Kariavattom (Trivandrum), Mahatma Gandhi University Library (Kottayam) and Public Library (Kottayam).

I acknowledge thankfully the receipt of a Junior Research Fellowship from the M.G. University, Kottayam during the tenure of this work.

MARY SENTERLA P.S.