ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It has been the blessings of God, which has made this work possible by bringing together helps and co-operations of various people. Therefore, the overall credit of success of the venture is placed in the foremost to the Heavenly Father, the Creator, Provider, Sustainer and the Founder of human destiny, without whose support this work would not have seen the light of day.

I was very fortunate indeed to have Dr. S. Mangi Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Manipur University as my Supervisor who tirelessly guided me and molded my thoughts and ideas and made them well fit in the thesis. His human qualities of patience, accessibility and generosity in extending necessary helps have been quite encouraging. I tremendously benefited from his scholarly guidance during my research. Therefore, taking this opportunity I extend my heartfelt gratitude to him for all his valuable contributions towards the completion of the present research work.

I am also extremely grateful and indebted to Ngaone, Shanglong of Oinam Hill, Raoping, Thang Tao of Oinam and Daihrii, Kadu of Saranamai who have made me familiar with numerous folk tales, folk songs, sayings, proverbs, etc. They have been a most valuable source of information throughout my research work. I shall never be able to repay them for their kind cooperation and invaluable contribution they have made towards the completion of the present work.

I also would like to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to all the faculty members of the Department for all the encouragement and help they have extended to me during the course of my research work. I am also equally thankful to the Librarian, Manipur University Central Library. I am also very much thankful to the good offices of the Manipur State Archives, Guwahati University Library, ICSSR Regional Centre, Shillong, etc. for all the kind cooperation they extended to me during the course of my research work.

I shall be failing in my duty if I fail to put into record my deep felt sense of gratitude to all the Poumai village chiefs, villagers and village functionaries who have always helped me with so many vital information essential for my research work. I will always remain ever indebted to them for this. Their cooperation and support have always spurred me to continue with my research work in spite of the difficulties I faced during the course of my research work. I am also highly indebted to the Ministry of Tribal Affairs, Government of India and the University Grants Commission for the generous financial support they extended to me for the research work. Without the financial support they provided to me, it would have been indeed very difficult for me to complete the present work.

Last but not the least, is the deep sense of gratitude which I feel towards all my family members for all the moral encouragement and all the sacrifices they have made to help me pursue my academic interests.

(RAOPING NGUPANI)