ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the preparation of this thesis I was greatly assisted by many persons who gave me suggestions, information, rare source materials and help me through their personal contact, guidance and moral support.

At the very outset I am deeply indebted to my supervisor, Prof. Konsam Ibo Singh, Ph.D (JNU), Department of Political Science, Manipur University. Without his constant help, patient guidance and untiring encouragement, it would not have been possible for me to complete the work. His timely help in preparing the questionnaires for the collection of data was of immense value in proper data collection. My sincere thanks also go to my teachers Prof. Ksh. Bimola Devi, HOD, Dr. S. Rajen Singh, Prof. Mrs. Ratna Tikoo, Dr. G.I. Sharma, Dr. S. Mangi Singh and Dr. L. Rajen Singh in the Department of Political Science, Manipur University for their encouragement and valuable suggestions.

I am deeply grateful to Profs. M. Horam and Gangmumei Kabui for their personal interest and help in my research. Their guidance and encouragement helped me to begin my research right in earnest. I am grateful to the Director of Tribals and Backward Classes, Manipur for helping me with all the support and materials that I needed.

I acknowledge the help of all the village headmen, authorities and elders who spared their time to help me gather the primary data through interviews. I am also grateful to the various student unions and civil organisations for helping and supporting me in this research. I am grateful to the Don Bosco College StaT and the students who were always ready to help and accompany me in my travels to distant villages and help me with the interviews and interpretations.

My thanks are due to the staff of the libraries of Manipur university, Don Bosco College Maram, Don Bosco Imphal, Archbishop’s House, Imphal, Sacred Heart Th. College, Shillong, Indian Council of Social Science Research, North Eastern Region, Shillong, Provincial House, Dimapur, Salesian College, Sonada, Tribal Development
Centre Library, Imphal, Nagaland University and State libraries. I am grateful to the Japanese embassy for responding to my queries very promptly.

Any scientific work or research cannot be completed satisfactorily without the moral and financial support. I am very grateful to the Salesian Community at Don Bosco College Maram and to the Vice Principal for taking all my responsibilities in my absence for research work and helping me to complete the work and providing all facilities and transport. In a special way I am indebted to (Late) Fr. Jayaseelan, Fr. M.C. George, Fr. Jose Chemparathy, Fr. Nebu Mathew, Fr. Elow Samuel, Fr. Victor and Community at Catholic School, Canchipur, Fr. Benny Karinattu, Fr. Xavier Mattam, Fr. P.O. Sebastian, Fr. Roy Mannattel, Fr. Dilip Bara, Fr. M.D. Varghese, Sr. Rose Mary Kazhiia and many others, the list of which will be too long if enumerated.

I am also grateful to Fr. Thomas Mulayinkal, the ex-provincial, Fr. James Poonthuruthil, the present provincial and Fr. Joseph Pampackal, the Provincial Economist, for their moral guidance and encouragement. My gratitude to (Late) Fr. Peter Bianchi and Fr. John Med for their support and guidance.
