Acknowledgement

At the very outset, through the miasma of all odds within and outside, I must thank Allah for bestowing me patience and perseverance for enabling me to complete the doctoral research. At times it looked difficult, even sometimes impossible because as the age catches on, the responsibilities, both official as well domestic, become not only dominating but also tormenting.

Any research work, irrespective of the type, the domain and the magnitude, is an outcome of plethora of efforts, inspirations, guidances which the researcher receives from different sources (people and places) throughout the course of his research work.

First of all I must place on record the guidance and inspiration which was extended to me by my supervisor Prof. Dost Mohammad, Ex-Head, Department of Economics and Dean Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Kashmir. His encompassing knowledge in the area of international trade has always proved a boon to the completion of this research work. Prof. Dost Mohammad lately took up an important position as Dean of Faculty of Management Studies at Baba Ghulam Shah Badshah University, Rajouri but despite his countless responsibilities in a newly started university, he was always forthcoming in extending his technical expertise and ensured that I should come through all the odds during the course of the programme. At times he would communicate many valuable suggestions through telephone right from Rajouri.

My friend and colleague, Prof. Khursheed A Butt, Head Department of Commerce, University of Kashmir, a great well wisher of the researcher, was always keen to see the work completed. I have no inhibition in placing on record the morale boosting attitude he showered at times when things in research looked gloomy. I shall hardly be in a position to redeem the indebtedness of his help. He lent me his personal computer machine (Laptop) at the cost of his own inconvenience and never asked for its return while as I am sure he must felt its need time and again.

Prof. S. Fayyaz Ahmed an unparalleled inspirational leader of his own standard was always keen to see the research completed. Prof. S. Fayyaz Ahmed, presently Dean Academics, University of Kashmir would always quiz about the progress of the work whenever we came across either in the Department or in his new office chamber of Dean Academics. His sincere eagerness to see the work completed would always fillip me towards the research programme. Prof. Fayyaz has lately assumed the charge of Registrar of University of Kashmir.

The researcher is indebted to galaxy of other academicians who were always keen to see the work completed. All other colleagues in the Department of Commerce would always pamper me to complete the research. Prof. Musadiq Amin Sahaf, Head, Department of Management Studies and Dr. Mufeed Ahmed (Reader) of the same Department would always encourage the researcher and would offer valuable suggestions during the course of the study. I am highly indebted to my friend Dr. Farooq, S. G. Lecturer, Govt. Degree College for Women, Baramulla for taking all the trouble in going through the whole manuscript meticulously.

As said this work is the outcome of so many sources. The researcher is highly indebted to Department of Commerce & Industry, Government of India for providing all relevant data necessary for the conduct of this study. The researcher is highly obliged to the faculty and other staff of the Indian Institute of Foreign Trade (IIFT) for the support in terms of making all published material available. I am also highly thankful to Mrs. Vijaya Kutty, Chairperson, IIFT for giving timely advises on the project. The researcher is also thankful to Prof. B. B. Bhattacharia, Ex-Chairman IIFT for his valuable guidance on certain key issues of the research.

Foreign trade or for that matter the subject area of International Business is of huge macro economic nature and as such requires a large canvas of knowledge. The libraries are unparalleled centres of knowledge supplements. The researcher is highly indebted to the staff of Ratan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics, Delhi University for allowing access to the valuable sources of knowledge. The Allama Iqbal Library, University of Kashmir has also been a major source of knowledge providing relevant journals on the area. I am highly thankful to the staff of the library for the same.

Lastly, I shall be failing in my duties if I do not place on record the cooperation exhibited by my family during the whole course of the study. This research would not have seen the dawn of day, had there not been their sacrifices. My son Enam-ul-Haq and my daughter Abrq Shafi were always yearning for a parental love and care from me but I would remain engrossed in the studies. I shall never be in position to redeem the sacrifices they made over the last two and half years. My wife has been a source of constant encouragement throughout the study. There were times when one would get fatigued, monotony, lack of zeal, but then it would be she who would come with a word of encouragement. There are innumerable times when she should receive the dictations and would help in compiling the matter. Her encouragements would always fillip me towards completing the project. I shall never be in position to redeem her sacrifices.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not place on record the meticulous work put in by the documentationist M/S. Universal Computers, Sadrabal, Sgr. for excellently type setting the manuscript and getting out with well bound copies with a brilliant print outs. He did the commendable job in a record time.
