ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, there are no words to express my gratitude and admiration for Dr. K. Velumani, Reader in Centre for Futures Studies who not only helped me in this study but also served as an adviser and provided valuable guidance and constant encouragement throughout my career at this institute. But for her timely advice at crucial stages, completion of my doctoral work would have been impossible.

I express my sincere thanks to Hon'ble Dr. G. Pankajam Vice-Chancellor, Gandhigram Rural Institute and other authorities of this institute who assisted me to carry out my research work on a full-time basis.

I am heavily indebted to Dr. S. Sivaraman, Professor and Co-ordinator, Centre for Futures Studies who has been a constant source of inspiration.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. R. Shankar, Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, who provided me both essential and necessary periodical guidance and given valuable indication in time to time for me to finish the thesis.
I would like to place my sincere thanks before Dr. S. Lakshmi, Reader, Dept, of English for having gone through the script for correction from the formative stages till the completion of the study.

I express my thanks to Dr. K.M. Sumathi, Lecturer, Dept, of English, M.V.M. Govt. Women Arts College, Dindigul who has shown interest, offered encouragement and made constructive comments as this study progressed.

I would like to acknowledge the co-operation extended by the Dept, of Social Welfare, staff of the Orphanage Homes in fieldwork, granting permission for the collections of data.

I thank the Library Staff of the Gandhigram Rural Institute for their readiness in providing me materials for the research.
