ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me immense pleasure to thanks all those who helped me in various ways during the completion of this research work.

Foremost is the Allah, the most beneficent and merciful, whose blessings always bestowed me with the potentials and capacities, required for the completion of this work.

I feel privileged in expressing my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor and mentor, Prof. Noor Mohammad, who despite his busy schedule gave me enough time. It is only because of his encouragement, ungrudging guidance and valuable suggestions that I have been able to do justice to my work.

I also extend my sincere thanks to Chairman, Department of Social Work, A.M.U., Aligarh; for his consistent help and in-valuable support relating to this work.

It gives me great pleasure to thanks all my respected teachers at the department for their constant encouragement. Thanks is also due for the non-teaching staff of the department for their cooperation and sympathetic help throughout my stay in the department.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not record the encouragement and support that I received from my senior colleagues and students at H.P. University, Shimla.

I am also thankful to all my well-wishers especially my friends for helping me throughout my work. I feel fortunate enough to have friends like them.
I am also grateful to the staff of all libraries visited by me including Maulana Azad Library, A.M.U; Seminar of Sociology and Social Work Department, A.M.U; Delhi School of Social Work, New Delhi; ICSSR, New Delhi; IIPA, New Delhi; National Medical Library, New Delhi; J.N.U library, New Delhi; Help age India library, New Delhi and Indian Institute of Advanced Studies, Shimla for their assistance and cooperation extended to me during the time of literature review.

It would be doing injustice if I do not mention the senior citizens of Aligarh, who gave timely and much needed help during all my field visits.

Although words cannot express my feelings, but I owe my deepest sense of gratitude to my family members for their immense love, unquestioning support and continuous encouragement and without them this work wouldn’t have been possible. Thank you all.
