ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I express by heartful gratitude to Dr. B.R. Dwaraki, Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Gandhigram Rural Institute-Deemed University (GRI), and my Research Supervisor for his valuable advice and guidance and constant encouragement throughout the period of this research endeavour.

I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. R. Sankar, Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Bharathithasan University, Thiruchirapalli, who, as the External Member of the Doctoral Committee, made a valuable contribution to the structuring of the study design.

I am indebted to the authorities of GRI, who permitted me to carry out my research work on a part-time basis.

Dr. S. Narayanasamy, Director, IDARA, helped me with many suggestions to carry out this study and I acknowledge his valuable assistance.

Sri. V. Ramasamy, Dr. M. William Baskaran (Former Programme Officers, IDARA) and Sri. S.K. Rajboj, Programme Officer of IDARA enabled me to complete this thesis and I thank them.

I gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by Dr. T. Rajendran, Reader in Sociology and Sri. V. Murugesan and Sri. B. Kumerasan, Research Scholars, Department of Sociology, Sri. S. Devaraj and Sri. M. Gurusamy of the Department of Political Science and Development Administration and Dr. M. Alankara Masillamani. I also thank Dr. M.A. Jeyaraju, Professor of English, GRI, for editing the manuscript before re-submission.

My sincere thanks are due to the chief functionaries and the staff of the Voluntary Agencies who responded to my questions and provided the needed information. But for their help, this study would not have been possible. Similarly, the officials of State Social Welfare Board, Madras, Nehru Yuva Kendras of Tamil Nadu, Officials of Gandhigram Institute of Rural Health and Family Welfare Trust, Gandhigram, helped me in collecting the required documents. I thank them.
I thank the staff members of the libraries at NIRD, Hyderabad, Institute of Social and Economic Change, Bangalore, and the Gandhigram Rural Institute, Gandhigram, for providing me with the necessary materials for my research.

My sincere appreciation is also extended to Mrs. and Mr. Selvaraj, Mr. B. Vivekananthan and Mr. G. Rajan for their help in computerising the manuscript of this study.

I cannot express in simple words my gratitude for the sacrifices made by my wife Smt. Lingammal, my daughter Revathi and my son Sivakumar from the beginning to the completion of the study.
