ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe my thanks and gratitude to many people for helping me with this project.

I wish to thank the Vice Chancellor and the Research Coordinator of Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Thirunelveli, for granting me permission to undergo part-time Ph.D. Programme, in their esteemed University, in the Department of Commerce.

I owe an enormous debt of gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. K. SANKARAN, Associate Professor & Head, Department Of Commerce D. B. Jain College, Chennai, who guided me along the difficult research path, over the past four years. His experience, insights, knowledge and support made this journey unforgettable and rewarding.

I would like to acknowledge Dr. E. Sambasivan, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, SRM University, Chennai, for timely help in guiding me on statistical data analysis.

My special thanks are due to the following people, who helped me in approaching banks for data collection, Mrs. Jayalakshmi Sankaran, Senior Manager, Union Bank of India, Perungudi Branch, Chennai, Mrs. R. Pushpalatha, Senior Manager, Punjab National Bank, Kilpauk Branch, Chennai, Mrs. R. Premkumari, Officer, The Reserve Bank of India, Chennai and Ms. V. Lavanya, Manager, State Bank of India, Purasawalkam Branch, Chennai. My thanks are due to many other bank officials who helped me in getting information and collection of questionnaires for this endeavour.
My sincere thanks to the Management of Pachaiyappa’s Trust, Chennai, and the Principal of the Chellammal Women’s College for permitting me to do Ph.D. as a part time course.

Last, but not the least, I would like to thank my family members and friends for all their love and support, in the completion of my study.

S.MEERA