\textit{Journey is the reward – Taoist saying}

At this juncture of submission of my Ph. D. thesis, I would like to convey my feelings to all those have directly or indirectly involved in the endeavor. I am really fortunate to have inspiration and support from my father that drives me at this stage along with concern and care from Janikaka (Prof. A.R. Jani).

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my research guide Dr. Ujjval Trivedi to provide me an opportunity to pass through a thoughtful journey of learning patience, solving hurdles and innovating ideas in research field, with his prompt & intellectual guidance, depth analysis, encouragement and affection. At this instance, I am heartily thankful to Prof. K. C. Patel sir for encouraging suggestions and warmth given to make the attempt successful. I am grateful to them for recognizing my inner quality and convert it into eligibility. I am thankful to Dr. Haresh Keharia for his support in the research work. I am thankful to my under graduate faculties J.M Trivedi sir, Parul madam and Dr.V.H. Shah sir for teaching me ‘ABC’ of Microbiology.

I am sincerely thankful to Prof. Datta Madamwar, Prof. K. S. Rao, and Prof. Kiran Kalia Head, BRD School of Biosciences for their kind co-operation for successful completion of this work.

Just thankfulness is not enough to my forever friends Dr. Rakesh, Dr. Kiransinh, Dr. Rachana, Dr. Kishor, Dr. Hema, Umang, Ajit, Niren and Akanksha for playing vital role as motivators, philosophers, pathfinder, trouble shooters, and critics. I owe my warm and sincere thanks to all dear lab-mates, Dr. Sushma, Kavita, Khyati, Deval, Shraddha, Anjali, Vimal and Dr. Rachana Dave for their support. During the course, I was in touch with young and enthusiastic dissertation students Arpita, Romaan and Linu (‘Amar-Akbar-Anthony’) who made me realize that teaching is best way of learning.

I am grateful to Prof. H. S. Savithri (Biochemistry dept.), Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore for their support in lipase purification experiments and Indian Academy of Science, Bangalore for awarding summer research fellowship. It was great and prestigious experience. I am thankful to Dr. Hitesh, Mr. Nitinbhai of BRD School of bioscience, Mr. Bhatt biodiesel dept. of AAU Anand, Mr. Tiwari and Mr. Gopal of SICART, V.V. nagar for their valuable technical support.

I express my sincere thanks to trustees of C E society; Principal and Head department of Microbiology of M. B. Patel Science College, Anand for granting permission and making my way smoother. I am fortunate to have non-stop moral backup from my colleagues and dearly students of Microbiology.

I am thankful to Mr. Pranav & team of ‘Desktop creators’ for looking after my ‘Desktop’. It’s moment to convey gratitude to my neighbors Girishbhai-Jyotsnaben for their concern towards my family that kept me out of worry.

Words are not enough to express my ‘अनुदान’ gratitude to ‘मेरी मेहनत में अने गुणावृत्तियों का अनुवाद’ my wife Meeta, kids Kanksha and Kankshit. A great deal of appreciation goes to Sarthak, Beena, Hrisha, Hardik, Shefali, Khush and all family members.

I could not complete the project successfully without blessings of my late ‘Mummy’ and the almighty.

I would like to conclude with lines by Ms. Geeta Parikh...

अबमें तेरी सम आहूँ, आरेम हीं ‘अ’ बही मं. अंग द्वारारो ‘अ’ सुधीं

उदाहरण, रक्तीं पर जीवन वी ज ‘अज’
