ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, my sincere thanks and gratitude are due to my guide and supervisor Dr. S. Gyaneswar Singh, Head, Department of Education, D.M. College of Arts and Commerce, Imphal for his valuable advice and encouragement that makes the present work possible. He was kind enough to spare his valuable moments in making the present thesis complete in spite of his busy schedule and other preoccupations. I am really indebted to him for enabling me to fulfil an important course in my academic career.

Next, I express my deep respect and gratitude to Shri Kishun Singh, former Principal of P.G.T. College, Imphal, who was also my former teacher during B.T. course and my supervisor during Diploma course in Educational Administration, not only for his kind cooperation in his capacity as the head of the institution of a prestigious teacher training college but also for rendering his worthy advice and expert views on the subject in which he is so much experienced.

I am also thankful to Principal Shri T. Kunjakishor Singh and Vice-Principal Awadesh Prasad of Hindi
Teachers Training College, Imphal and to Shri M. Kula Singh, Project Officer and Shri S.R. Deb, Lecturer-in-charge of B.Ed. training of SIE, Manipur, now SCERT, for their kind co-operation while furnishing relevant information of their respective institutions.

I am grateful to my uncle Shri S. Shivdas Singh, Librarian of P.G.T. College, Imphal for allowing me access to all kinds of books and literature from the college library and for other useful helps.

My thanks are also due to some officers and other staffs of Directorate of Education(S), Manipur for their helpful co-operation. I owe a great deal to my uncle Shri Th. Bidhu Singh, Senior Accounts Officer, Directorate of Education(S) in many respects.

Shri H. Herachandra Singh, Section Officer (G), Manipur University, who has the commendable skill to maintain the typographical beauty, will always be remembered on turning the pages.

It would be improper if I fail to acknowledge the co-operation of all those respondents whose combined contributions form the backbone of my present investigative research.
Lastly, two important persons in my life, like two pillars of support, deserves special mention for their contributions to my work. One is my father, Shri L. Ibohal Singh— a perfectionist, a hard taskmaster and an indulgent father, who shaped my life and career in every step. The other is my husband, Dr. W. Ibochaoba Singh, who gladly shared the toils and tumbles during the present work, just like any other event in our life.
