Acknowledgement

Working on this thesis has been an incredible experience for me. For this, I would like to thank a lot of people without whose co-operation and support; this research would not have been possible. Firstly, I would like to thank my supervisor and mentor, Prof. Dr. Satinder Bhatia for her endless support and guidance. She has played a key role in helping me structure my dissertation. Her prompt replies to my e-mails and her valuable feedback and comments have greatly helped me to complete my dissertation on time. I would also like to sincerely thank all the interviewees and respondents for their valuable time and useful insights on the research topic. I am grateful to my parents for their never-ending support and faith in me. Without their presence, carrying out this research would have been rather difficult. In the end, I am thankful to my friends for their constant source of encouragement and being there for me always when I was de-motivated during the course of my dissertation. I am thankful to the Prof. Dr. Sunita Raju, Prof. Vijaya Kati, Prof. Ruppal Walia Sharma, Dr. Mridula Savitri Mishra, Dr. V. Raveendra Saradhi, Dr Jaydeep Mukherjee, Dr. Pinaki Dasgupta, Dr..Debashis Chakraborty and Prof O.P. Wali for their guidance and valuable insights from time to time, more specifically during my Research Plan, and Pre-PhD. presentations, of IIFT, for their encouragement.

Other contributions have included my friend Arvind Kumar and Dr. Jitarani Udgata without their help and encouragement this work could not been complete. My work has also been shaped by a remarkable set of friends. Their enthusiasm and energy were a constant source of motivation and challenge.

In particular, I want to express my gratitude to Dr. Sudhir Ranjan Dash for his valuable suggestions. I would also like to thank my most important supporter and personal anchor, my wife Dr. Sweta Arora, who inspired me to complete this work.
