It has been a great opportunity to spend several years at CSIR-CSMCRI working with, and around, so many proficient and unique individuals. It would not have been possible to finish my doctoral work without the help and support of the kind people around me. At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it a memorable experience for me.

I wholeheartedly express my deep sense of gratitude to my Ph.D. supervisor, Dr. Bishwajit Ganguly. With his benevolent guidance, inspiration, and great efforts to explain things clearly and simply, he helped to make computational chemistry as an enjoyable experience for me. Throughout my doctoral work, he provided encouragement, sound advice, good teaching, good company, and lots of good ideas. I am extremely grateful to him for the freedom that he gave to my research life. His generosity, affection, kind-heartedness and understanding will always remain engrained in my memory.

I sincerely thank Dr. P. K. Ghosh, Director, CSMCRI, for providing us the infrastructure facility to carry out my research at a competitive level. I wish to convey my gratefulness to Dr. Parimal Paul, Discipline Coordinator, for his invaluable suggestions and appreciative comments.

I extend my deep sense of respect and gratitude to Dr. Amitava Das, who is a constant source of inspiration for me. From him, I learnt the perfection and the dedication towards research work. He also supported me with his optimistic and fruitful suggestions.

I earnestly yearn to convey my gratefulness to Dr. Amit Bhattacharyya for his fruitful discussions on research problems, appreciative comments, and continuous guidance whenever I approached him.

I wish to convey my sincere thanks and gratitude to our collaborator Dr. Kata Mlinarić-Majerski (Ruđer Bošković Institute, Croatia) for help and productive discussions.

I extend my sincere gratitude to Dr. E. Suresh, Dr. (Mrs.) P.
