

Acknowledgement

This thesis is dedicated to my Dad, Prof. K.C. George. He would have been the happiest person to see me finishing the thesis. I miss you so much Dad! I first of all thank Lord Almighty for being so kind to me and for all the blessings he has showered upon me all these years. I thank Prof. T. Eugene of the Department of Economics, Loyola College, Chennai for introducing me to the magnificent world of Environmental Economics. This thesis would not have materialized but for the able guidance of my guide, Dr. R. Pushpakumari. My utmost gratitude is expressed for her scientific guidance, generous advice, excellent suggestions, patience in repeated correction and for her being so demanding all the time, because it challenged me and pushed me forward. Her logical consistency, direction, vision and uncompromising attitude towards quality are deeply acknowledged.

I am very grateful to the Jawaharlal Nehru Memorial Fund, New Delhi for awarding me a Doctoral fellowship to be a Visiting Research Fellow at the University of Philippines, Diliman. I would like to thank Dr. Ma Lourde Rebullida of the University of Philippines for helping me to understand the various dimensions of Urban Solid Waste Management. To Dr. Geneline Sarte of the Department of Statistics, University of Philippines, I will always be thankful for introducing to me the wonderful idea of ordinal regression. I would also like to thank Miss. Geraldine Santos, Mr. Ariel Manuel and Miss. Familia Honorrio of the University of Philippines for helping me during my stay at the University. I am very grateful to Prof.L.Venkatachalam of M.I.D.S, Prof.Gautam Gupta and Prof.Joyasree Roy of Jadavpur University, Calcutta for their valuable suggestions that helped me enhance the quality of this work.

A special thanks to Mr. Sony of CMFRI, Cochin, for helping me with the statistical analysis. I would also like to thank Mr.Balan, Mrs.Geetha and all the 'checkis' of the Socio Economic Unit Foundation, Alappuzha for helping me in a very big way to conduct the household survey. I express my deep gratitude to Prof.K.Geetha, former Head of the Department of Economics, N.S.S College, Cherthala for all the encouragement and wishes. My warm thanks to Prof.K.V.Mohankumar, Prof.G.Radhakrishnan, Dr. N.Madhava Menon of the Department of Economics, N.S.S. College, Cherthala and Dr.T.Remadevi, Dr.Madhavan Nampoothiri, Dr.AbdulSalim, Dr.Rjashekar Pillai, Prof.Shahul Hameed of the Department of Economics, Govt College, Attingal for their continuous support and encouragement. A special thanks to Dr.P.Sureshkumar of the Department of Economics, Govt College, Attingal for giving me a better understanding of the political economy. I would also like to thank my Head of the Department, Dr.K.Prasanna for her constant encouragement and for giving me enough time to complete the thesis. My gratitude is expressed to my colleagues Dr.S.Muraleedharan and Dr.Sunil Menon for their kind advice and help and also to my other colleagues Prof.M.L.Prakash, Prof.Rosamma John and Mrs.Ancy for their help and encouragement. Thank you all once again!

All these years, I had the love and unconditional support of my family. What kept me going during these years was the comfort and relaxing spirit of home that, day-by-day, replenished my resources, especially the sense, vigour and integrity of my dad, and the love, care, affection and persistence of my mom, Prof.Agnes George. I thank my loving brothers, Dr.chandy and Johnney and my sister- in- laws, Anju and Dr.Jeena. Warm thoughts also for my nieces and nephew: Angela, Divya and Georgie. I also thank my father-in-law, Mr.Devasia and my mother-in-law, Mrs.Aleyamma for their encouragement and support. Most of all, my loving thanks to my dear wife, Dr.Smitha for her love, support, optimism, humour and intellect and for our two wonderful kids, Joann and George. The joy of accomplishment is best shared with you all.

Finally, thanks to all my friends and past colleagues Mr. R. Santhosh, Mr .O.S. Francis, Mr. Vipin Chandran and Mr. N. Karunakaran who in one way or another speeded up the completion of the thesis.

Mothi George