References

Buckholtz, N. S. (1975). Anticonvulsant effects of 6-methoxy 1,2,3,4 tetrahydro-B-carboline on audiogenic and electroconvulsive seizure in mice. Pharmacology, Biochemistry and Behaviour, 3(1), 65-68.

Buckholtz, N. S., and Bowman, R. E. (1972). Incubation and Retrograde amnesia studied with various ECS intensities and durations. Brain Research, 8, 113-117.

Electroshock effects on brain protein synthesis:
Relation to brain seizures and retrograde amnesia.

behavioural evidence for dopamine autoreceptor subsensitivity after acute electroconvulsive shock.
Pharmacology, Biochemistry and Behaviour, 17(2), 375-376.

amnesia of conditioned inhibition of respiration produced by electroconvulsive shock after reactivation of a consolidated memory trace: A

Effect of naloxone, haloperidol and propranolol on cyclic 3',5'-adenosine monophosphate content of rat

Effect of electroconvulsive shock on β-endorphin immunoreactivity of rat brain, pituitary gland, and Duncan, C.P. (1949). Retroactive effect of electroshock on

The effect of electroshock on brain RNA and protein synthesis and its possible relationship to behavioural effects. In M. Fink, S. Kety, J. McGaugh, and T.A.
Williams (Eds.). Psychobiology of Convulsive Therapy.

Heduna, L.J. (1934). Versuche Uber die biologische Beeinflussung des Abaufes der Schizophrenia: Camphor und cardiozolkrampfe. Z. Ges Neural. Psychiatry, 152, 235-262.

Messing, R.B., Jensen, K.A., Martinez, J.L. Jr., Spiehler, V.R., Vasquez, E.J., Soumiere-Mourat, E., Liang, K.C., and McGaugh, J.L. (1979). Naloxone enhancement of memory. Behavioural and Neural Biology, 27, 266-275.

Miller, A.J. (1968). Variations in retrograde amnesia with parameters of electroconvulsive shock and time of testing. Journal of Comparative and Physiological Psychology, 66, 40-47.

Morrell, F. (1961a). Lasting changes in synaptic organization produced by continuous neuronal bombardment. In Oxford; Blackwell, pp. 95.

Muller, G.E., and Pilzecker, A. (1900). Experimentelle Beitrage zur Lehre vom Gedachtnis. Zeitschrift fur Psychologie, 1, 1-30.

does not prevent the enhanced monoamine-mediated behavioural responses following repeated electro-

Duration of retrograde amnesia as a function of electroconvulsive shock intensity. Physiology and on dopaminergic and noradrenergic mechanisms: Effect on the behavioural changes induced by reserpine, dmethyl-3,4-tetrahydroisoamphetamine oramphetamine. Psychopharmacologia, 35(2), 149-158.

Retrograde amnesia from electroconvulsive therapy.
Neuropsychologia, 16, 91-97.

Pert, C.B., and Snyder, S.H. (1973). Opiate receptor:
Demonstration in nervous tissue. Science, 179, 1011-1014.

and averesively motivated behaviours. In H. Anisman and G. Bignami (Eds.), Psychopharmacology of Aversively

