It never happens without help

I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. A.K. Agrawal, Assistant Director, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, Lucknow, for his able guidance, supervision and expertise that brought me into the field of neural transplantation. He favoured me with his valuable suggestions and rendered moral support throughout the study. His persuasions, thoughts and efforts always seemed to open new avenues for further improvement. It has been a pleasure working with him and I have tried to incorporate all that I have learnt from him in the past few years and I am sanguine that my efforts will meet his expectations.

With sincere reverence, I am thankful to Prof. M. Athar, Head, Department of Medical Elementology and Toxicology & Dean, Faculty of Science, Jamia Hamdard, New Delhi, for his valuable guidance and personal interest throughout the period of this study.

I consider myself extremely fortunate to have worked with Dr. P.K. Seth, FNA, Director, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, Lucknow, who has been a major inspiration behind this work. His vision and intellect always provided me with the much-needed enthusiasm to accomplish my objectives. I would like to thank him for excellent reviewing of my work and providing all necessary facilities to carry out my studies.

I am thankful to Dr. R.C. Srimal, FNA, Former Director, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, and Scientist Emeritus, CSIR for his valuable suggestions and constructive criticism during the course of this study.

It has been a pleasure to enjoy fruitful scientific discussions with Dr. (Mrs.) R. Husain and Dr. D.N. Kachru, Scientists, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre. For their immense help and affection I shall ever remain indebted.

Sincerely, I wish to thank Dr. M.P. Dubey, Head, and Dr. R. Raghubir, Scientist, Department of Pharmacology, Central Drug Research Institute, Lucknow, for their valuable contributions in carrying out the HPLC and electrophysiological studies in this dissertation.

I have received tremendous support and help from Drs. D. Parmar, V.P. Sharma, A. Dhawan and V.K. Khanna, Scientists, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, for which I am really thankful. I am completely overwhelmed by the companionship they showed for me, especially Dr. A. Dhawan, who was continuously making it convenient for me to bring out the thesis in the best possible form.

I sincerely wish to thank Dr. D.K. Saxena and Y. Shukla, Assistant Directors, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, for their immense help rendered in the histochemical studies. I also render my thanks to Mr. Nikhil Garg, Scientist, Computer Cell, Industrial Toxicology Research Centre, for his cooperation.
The valuable help and cooperation of my lab colleagues, especially, Dr. Govinder J.S. Flora, Dr. Vivek Viswanathan, Dr. M. Junaid, Dr. A.B. Pant, Dr. Kavita Seth, S. Pradeep, Richa, Monika, Marcof, Aparajita, Prachi and Annika is gratefully acknowledged and I am glad to render them my thanks.

It fills my heart with great joy unspeakable to rise in response to the warm and cordial gestures shown to me by Dr. Vaqar Mustafa Adhami. My acknowledgements to him are better left unsaid. His help of the highest magnitude and the moments we shared during our explorations into the intricacies of neural transplantation shall be a memory for tomorrow.

I enjoyed being in the company of my friends, Saikat, Surjangshu, Abhijeet, Neeraj, Chitra, Kapil, Manoj, Charoo, Anurag, Vikas, and Gautam with whom I shared immemorable experiences. I also thank Farrukh and Sarfaraz for their company.

I take this opportunity to thank Mr. Kailash Chandra, Dr. C.S. Ojha, Mr. S.K. Shukla, Mr. Kanhaiya Lal, Mr. Mohd. Aslam, Mr. B.S. Pandey, Mr. Rajesh Mishra, Mr. Shiv Raj, Mr. Ram Lal, Mr. Umesh Prasad, Mr. M.C. Sharma and Mr. Kishan Lal for their help and assistance.

The cover designing by Mr. Ali Kausar, Central Drug Research Institute, is gratefully acknowledged.

My parents have played a paramount role in shaping my career. Their patience, understanding, moral support, love and affection have always provided me the strength to counter all problems. My brother and Bhabhi always stood by me through thick and thin and their efforts have always helped me sail smoothly.

The financial help of Indian Council of Medical Research is gratefully acknowledged.

I acknowledge all the experimental animals that silently sacrificed their lives towards the better understanding of a human problem.
