ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A true teacher enlightens the deep recesses of mind of the students and brings out the hidden valuables from it. The same has proven, by my teacher and research supervisor Dr R .P. Mishra, Reader in the Department of Geography, Doctor Harisingh Gour Vishwavidyalaya, Sagar, in my case for which, I feel my Indebtedness, I express him my gratitude, for supervision, discussing typical situations in the research work and constant encouragement throughout the tenure.

I am very much thankful to Professor J.L.Jain, Head of the department as well as my teachers for providing facilities in the Department.

I express my sincere regards to my teacher Professor D.S. Shrivastava, the then Chairman, Board of Studies in Geography (now retired from this Department), and Professor J.N. Pandey, Head of the Department of Geography, Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur, for suggesting the topic of research and valuable suggestions which have been incorporated in the thesis..

I am Indebted to my teachers Professor R.S. Dube, Professor S.K.Sharma, Professor S.K.Shukla, and Professor Kailash Choubey, Dr.C.K.Jain and Dr. P.Soni of this Department, for their constant encouragement and suggestions.

I am also thankful to the Chief Medical Officer Sagar, District Education Officer Sagar, Commissioner Nagar Nigam Sagar and District Informatics Officer, NIC, Sagar, for providing relevant data and help while conducting field survey.
I cannot express my gratitude in words to my parents who have ever encouraged and guided me on such occasion when I felt nervous and weak during the field survey or while the completion of the thesis. Without their constant encouragement and help it was quite impossible for me to undertake such a great task.

At last but not least I am grateful to my Mousa Mousi (Mr. Prem Narayan Bajpai, Mrs. Pratibha Bajpai of Allahabad and Mr. Rajendra Mishra, Mrs. Neeta Mishra of Lucknow, for their affectionate encouragement every now and then, throughout the study.

Sagar
October, 10, 2002

(Prabhati Shukla)