ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining an achievement. I have not traveled in vacuum in this journey. This thesis has been kept on track which leads to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my friends, colleagues and various institutions. At the end of my thesis I would like to thank all those people who made this thesis possible and an unforgettable experience for me. At the end of my endeavor it is a pleasant task to express my gratitude to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience.

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor, my guide and my mentor DR R D JANI, Prof and Head, Department of Physiology, C U SHAH Medical College, Surendranagar for the continuous support of my PhD study and research, for his patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. His motivating word like “you have only one choice that is hard work” pours lot of energy in me all the time.

Despite of his busy schedule, he used to review my thesis progress, give his valuable suggestions and made corrections. His unflinching courage and conviction has always inspired me, and I hope to continue the work with his noble thoughts. I felt I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my PhD study.
Besides my advisor/my guide, I would like to thank my co-guide DR F D GHANCHI, Professor and Head, Department of TB and chest diseases, M P SHAH Government Medical College, Jamnagar, who helped me a lot for the my PhD work by referring COPD patients for my study.

I would like to thank DR VIKAS SINHA, The Dean and Professor in ENT, M.P.SHAH Government Medical College, Dr Nandini Desai, Superintendent, Guru Gobind Singh Government Hospital, Jamnagar and the members' Ethical committee: DR K NISHTESWAR, Chairman, DR H R TRIVEDI, DR M V GAJERA, DR MANISH MEHTA, and DR HARSHP TRIVEDI for necessary permissions.

I thank my fellow and my best friend DINESH M SORANI, Senior Lecturer, Government Physiotherapy College, Jamnagar for the stimulating discussions and healthy arguments. From the day of my entrance examination he helped in all the aspects leading to conclusion and submission of my work. I find him to be treasure in my life.

I would like to thank all patients who have agreed to participate in my studies.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank my wife Hetal and Trisha; my daughter, and would like to pay high regards to my parents, my brother Ajay and Anand and all the family members for bearing with me in the times where my presence was required and I could not be with them.
