This study was conducted to:

- Determine the causative and preventive factors of coronary artery disease.
- Look for which artery is commonly involved in coronary artery disease.
- Find out anatomical variations of coronary arteries.