ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Many people have contributed in different ways towards the completion of this study by way of guidance, help, discussions and suggestions. They are many more than can be acknowledged by name here.

I would like to express a special note of gratitude for my teachers at AMU who prepared me for the profession; to Prof. Noorul Hassan Khan who sifted me for teaching career and has played a vital role in my professional formation in later years before leaving this University to manage the library affairs at my Alma Mater; to Prof. P. B. Mangla who has also been a source of inspiration and guidance for me over the years; and to Prof. Krishan Kumar who has also been instrumental in building my professional career and for encouraging me to undertake this study.

I also acknowledge a debt to my colleagues in the department whose ideas and cooperation have given a proper direction to this study -- Prof. M. L. Wali whose long and fruitful association I treasure a great deal, Mr. S. M. Shafi and others. I also feel it my duty to express thanks to a number of professional colleagues here and abroad whose views and expertise have been helpful in this study.
To Prof. S. Farooq, Professor of Botany here, I am indebted a great deal for his moral support throughout the critical period of the study.

This study would have been impossible without the help extended to me by the librarians in the State who generously provided me with excess to their records and offered a wealth of information that adorns the pages of this study. Many academicians participated in this study by contributing their time and effort in filling the questionnaire which helped to x-ray the present maladies of the libraries and also to propose a panacea for their rejuvenation. Mrs. Sumera Nabi found the references with skill and care. I acknowledge their contribution with profound thanks.

M/s Computer Vision, 120 Sadurbal, Srinagar did the commendable job of loading the manuscript onto the floppies and bringing it out in print with labour and accuracy. Thanks to the young men.

Last, but not least, I am indebted to my wife for her constant encouragement and shouldering many responsibilities those were mine. I sincerely want her to know that I know how hard it must have been for her.

(Wajih A. Alvi)
