Acknowledgement

Any achievement comes through hard work and blessings of the almighty God. It’s my immense pleasure to express my gratitude towards them who helped me directly or indirectly in completing my Ph.D. work. In this regard, first of all, I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. U. Prakasham (IFS) Director, Tropical Forest Research Institute Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh, who gave me opportunity to work in this prestigious research institute of central India.

I am deeply indebted to my Supervisor Dr. R.K. Verma, Scientist ‘F’ Forest Pathology Division, Tropical Forest Research Institute Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh for his kind guidance and support during the course of study that helped me improving the quality of my research work. It was a great experience to work under his kind guidance. He always remained as a source of inspiration to me.

I am very grateful to Dr. K.K. Soni, Scientist ‘E’ & Head Forest Pathology Division, Tropical Forest Research Institute Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh who always motivated me to try my level best during the course of study. He guided me not only in the field during sampling in the sal forests of central India but also in the laboratory during their identification.

I am also thankful to Dr. P. Subramanyam, ‘IFS’ and Group Co-ordinator Research and Dr. Nitin Kulkarni, Scientist ‘F’ & Head Forest Entomology Division, Tropical Forest Research Institute Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh for their timely and valuable suggestion that enriched my research work.

I am extremely thankful to Shri Dashrath Turkane, Research Assistant II, of Forest Pathology Division for his help during tour in fields and in nursery. He helped me in managing my field trial schedule in such a way that I could timely complete my research work.

I am also thankful to Shri P.S. Rajput, Research Assistant II, of Forest Pathology Division for his help in laying out nursery experiment and registering my fungal specimen in the Mycology Herbarium of Forest Pathology Division, Tropical Forest Research Institute Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh. He always treated me as his younger brother.

I am also thankful to Shri Ashok Thakur, and Gautam Narnawane, Research Assistant II, of Forest Pathology Division for their help in laboratory during AM isolation.
I am thankful to my colleague Miss. Nisha Singh, Junior Research Fellow, Miss. Sonam Chaurasia, Junior Research Fellow, Forest Pathology Division for their help during the course of study.

I am very grateful to Honorable Shri Radheshyamji Chandak “Bhaiji”, founder president Buldana Unban Credit and Co-operative Society, Dr. Sukeshji Zamwar, Managing Director Buldana Unban Credit and Co-operative Society and Mrs. Komal S. Zamwar, Chairmen Sahakar Vidya Mandir Group of Schools Buldana, Maharashtra for their help in the last phase of my Ph.D.

Now I am going to reveal the name of my inner supporter who indirectly helped me in completing my Ph.D. work. In this regard, I would like to express my heartfelt, deepest thank to my grandfather Shri Ramgopal Pyasi, Grandmother Smt. Tejabai Pyasi, my father Shri Ashok Pyasi and mother Smt. Santoshi Pyasi who always been beside me whenever I was in trouble. Their best wishes are always with me. I am also very thankful to my better half, my wife Neelam for her love, care and support to me.

At last, but not the least, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Indian Council of Forestry Research & Education, Dehra Dun (Uttarakhand) for financial assistance as Junior and subsequently Senior Research Fellowship.

Date:

Abhishek Pyasi
Ph.D. Scholar
Forest Research Institute University
Dehra Dun (Uttarakhand), India