ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I would like to express my heartiest gratitude and indebtedness to my supervisor, Dr. Mohd. Yousuf, who constantly motivated and guided me for quality research work and assisted in all the ways during difficult stages of the study, research work, field experiments, and writing of thesis.

I owe my sincere thanks to the CEO & Member Secretary, Central Silk Board, Ministry of Textiles, Government of India, Bangalore for her generosity to grant the study leave to undertake Ph. D. research work in FRI (Deemed) University, Dehra Dun.

Thanks are also due to Dr. P.P. Bhojvaid (IFS), Director and Dr. S.S. Negi, former Director of FRI, Dehra Dun for being kind enough for providing the research facilities and also for facilitating the administrative formalities at every stage of my study. I am grateful to Dr. A. K. Tripathi, Registrar, FRI (Deemed) University for his time-to-time help and assistance.

Special thanks must go to Dr. Mukhtar Ahmad (Ex. Head, Forest Entomology Division, FRI, Dehra Dun), who gave immensely useful advice for giving the shape to my research topic and plan of work and also made valuable comments and suggestions on the events and facts of the study.

My special admiration is also due to Sri Raman Nautiyal (Forestry Statistics Division, ICFRE, Dehra Dun) for selection of appropriate statistical tools, design of experiments and data processing by an advance statistical software, STATISTICA 10 and insightful comments on the interpretation of the results.

Many more people made this study possible through their assistance and encouragement. I want to place on record my sincere thanks to Dr. A.S. Rawat (Silviculture Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for giving the permission to use different forest tree species for experimental rearing of A. mylitta; Dr. Veena Chandra and Harshverdhan Naithani (Forest Botany Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for identification of tested forest tree species; Sri Rajbeer Singh, IFS (Forest Informatics Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for developing map of the study area; Sri Nirmal Ram (Forest Ecology and Environment Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for providing weather data of the study site; Sri R.S. Patil (Central Silk Board, GOI, Ambikapur, Chhattisgarh) for providing disease free layings of A. mylitta; Dr. K.P Singh (Forest Entomology Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for providing facilities of Insectary to conduct grainage experiments; Sri R.S. Bhandari (Ex. Head, Forest Entomology Division, FRI, Dehra Dun) for his technical guidance during the course of experiments; Dr. Sudhir Singh (Forest Entomology Division, FRI Dehra Dun) for extending the facilities of NFIC, Dehra Dun for identification of collected insect specimens and permission to use Olympus SXZ16 stereomicroscope; Dr. Neena Chauhan (Forest Entomology Division, FRI Dehra Dun) for supplying information on parasitoid species; Sri D.C. Joshi (DCTSC, Central Silk Board, Premnagar) for post cocoon analysis; Dr. M.K. Sinha, (Director, Central Tasar Research and Training Institute, Ranchi) for extending library facilities; Dr. M.A. Khan (Ex. Director, Central Sericultural Research and Training Institute, Pampore (J&K) for helping in granting me the study leave; Dr. P.K. Singh (Joint Director, Regional Sericultural Research Station, Central Silk Board, Sahaspur, Dehra Dun) for advising and assisting in all the ways during the course of study; Sri B.K. Mohapatra, Sri K.K. Badola, Smt. Madhu Badola, Sri R.K. Jain, Sri S.P Tamta, Sri Mohd. Iqbal and Sri T.K. Gairola (RSRS, Central Silk Board, Sahaspur, Dehra Dun) for their distinguished help and support during the course of study.

Thanks to the staffs of Forest Entomology Division, FRI, Dehra Dun for their cooperation and assistance during experimental work and data collection. Discussions with Dr. D. Chakravorty, Dr. N.G. Ojha, Sri S.K. Tewary, Dr. Ranjan Tewary, Dr. S.S. Rath, Sri U.N. Singh, Dr. Pankaj Tewary, Dr. P.M. Tripathi, Dr. Harish Chandra, Dr. V.B. Srivastava, Dr. Mohd. Aslam and Sri K.R. Maurya influenced the scientific view on the study. Thanks are due to my colleagues Dr. Mohd. Faisal, Ajeet Lakhera, Nemit Verma, Mohd. Salim and Sardesh Chaurasia for their help and assistance.

I evince my profound sense of indebtedness to my beloved parents, who inspired me to do this piece of work. My warmest thanks are also due to my wife, Smt. Madhu Bhatia for her constant inspiration and moral support throughout the study. I extend my sincere love and affection to my children, Sonali, Shefali and Aryan for many a things, especially for their “OK daddy” during my lows that boosted me repeatedly.
