PREFACE

Stress is a normal counterpart of living. Often our tensions conflicts, and frustrations stem from our struggle to play the role of someone we are not, and many times we fail to heed our own cues of when we are exceeding our individual stress levels.

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to all those who have helped me in conducting this work. Foremost amongst them is my supervisor, Dr. Novrattan Sharma, Reader, Department of Psychology, M.D. University, Rohtak. I welcome this opportunity to record my heartfelt gratitude and sincere thanks to him for his invaluable suggestions, able guidance and encouragement at every stage of this work.

I also express my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. Rajbir Singh, Professor, Deptt. of Psychology, M.D.U. Rohtak for his valuable suggestions from time to time. I also express my heartfelt gratefulness to Dr. (Mrs.) Amrita Yadava, Read & Head, Deptt. of Psychology, M.D.U. Rohtak for the encouragement, I got from her.

I also express my thanks to the respondents who participated in this research project and my friends who helped me during data collection. Beside this I am grateful from the core of my heart to my parents, husband and my in-laws who were always ready to help me in every step of my research work.

I am highly grateful to the staff members of National Information Centre, Delhi for their co-operation in providing me the pertinent literature for the present study.
