ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This, I dedicate in the name of the Almighty, without whose blessings this work could neither be initiated nor completed.

A monument is a splendid though mute testimony to its architect; but few know of those who have toiled unceasingly in order that the edifice be completed. These words embody the very spirit with which my teacher and guide Dr. M. L. Naik, M. Sc. Ph.D., Professor and Head of S.O.S. in Life Science, for helping me in the successful completion of my research. I only hope that this project lives up to the high standards set by him so that I can redeem even a fraction of the burden of gratitude, which he has placed on me.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. Anjana Sharma, M.Sc. Ph.D., Bacteriology Laboratory, R. D. University, Jabalpur, for her unreserved help and concern and an active involvement at every stage of my work. Without her help, this thesis could not have seen the daylight of completion.

Try as I may, I cannot succeed in expressing my gratefulness to Dr. Sushma Rajput, Indira Gandhi Development of Research Institute, Mumbai, for her unselfish devotion and cooperation. An equal contribution was also made by Deepali Khokhale, Research Scholar, to whom I also extend my thanks.

All through my thesis my husband, Abir Bandyopadhyay, remained a companion, supporter and critic. This multifaceted blend in him made me feel that I have found a true comrade in him.

I am also thankful to our faculty members of S.O.S in Life Science, and my teachers, Dr. V. Rai, Dr. S. K. Mishra, Dr. A. K.
Pati, Dr. A. K. Gupta, Dr. (Mrs.) A. Poddar, Dr. S.C. Naithani and Dr. (Mrs.) Vijaya Koche.

I consider it my sterling chance to acknowledge my colleague Mrs. Sanju Sinha who had been a helping hand throughout the tenure of this thesis and I would always be obliged for this gesture of hers.

I am grateful for the help received from colleagues of my department, my seniors and juniors, for their constant support. It was a pleasure to work with Mrs. Roma Thakur.

I express my affection to my daughter, Ria, whose innocent smile and sparkling eyes were always a source of encouragement to me. I am also thankful to my uncle Mr. D.K. Mukherjee, I.P.S., my aunt Mrs. G. Mukherjee, my sister Mrs. Protibha Sahukar and my brother-in-law Mr. Satyadeep Sahukar.

Completion of this work provides me a welcome opportunity to acknowledge all those who helped me, directly or indirectly, but had to go unsung.

Preeti Mukherjee.
