CHAPTER IV

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF SYRO-MALABAR CHURCH IN MADHYA PRADESH

4.1 Journey of Syro-Malabar Exarchates to Eparchy

We have seen that the 'so called first century Church of Madhya Pradesh' came to naught due to reasons unknown to us, without leaving even the trace of it. The establishment of the Syro-Malabar exarchates of Sagar, Satna, Ujjain, and Jagdalpur was a milestone in the history of this Indian Church which existed from the first century. Though the first century Church of St. Thomas in M.P came to be non-existing, the establishment of these exarchates filled the void that was left by the extinct Church of St. Thomas in the state.

4.1.1 Situation of the Exarchates at the Beginning.

The Syro-Malabar exarchates were established in the so-called barren lands of India.\(^1\) Moreover they got started in M.P at a time when the anti-missionary attitude was boiling in the governmental circles.\(^2\) Missionaries who came from the south had very little knowledge of the language and customs of the people. However the experience of the CMIs in Raigargh-Ambikapur mission proved to be beneficial for them to a great extent. Even the immigrant Christians to whom they were to cater was an unorganised group. They were considered aliens in their own land. The local Christians were not familiar to the missionaries. They were familiar with a pattern of worship which was not practised by the new missionaries from the south. And as such even in the Latin Church much was not done on the vernacular front at that time.

In the (Syro-Malabar) oriental form of worship, practically nothing was done in north Indian languages. What they had was some rudimentary translations and songs of liturgical services done by Fr Prasannabai CMI and his companions in the exarchate of Chanda. In the beginning most of the missionaries had to depend on this and on the other texts of liturgical services available in the Latin Church. They came to a situation where they had no infrastructure, no support of the people, because they were not acquainted even with their own, no support of the language, and no support of the society at large. So they had to start everything from the zero point. Being an oriental Church she suffered from the non-availability of funds comparing to her occidental counterparts. With all these kind of debilities glaring at them, the missionaries from the Syro-Malabar Church ventured into the field in Madhya Pradesh.

Pope Paul VI was the reigning pontiff when all these exarchates of M.P were established. Msgr Clemens took Charge as the exarch of Sagar on 1st November 1968. Formal inauguration of the exarchate was held on 6th January 1969. When he took up the ministry of the exarchate however there were three communities of Catholics (Sagar, Shampura, and Bina) whose number was one thousand in total (Sagar-530, Shampura- 220, Bina 250).
Exarchate of Satna had only 335 Catholic population at the inauguration. Rewa was the only mission station existing at the inauguration of the exarchate. There was a small building at Rewa. Exarchate of Ujjain had a Catholic population of 220 people at its beginning. They were mainly in Nagda and Ujjain. “In these two places Bishop Simons of Indore had bought some acres of land.” When the CMIs entered Jagdalpur there were 237 Catholics in the exarchate one school and two convents. The fathers who were there attended to the spiritual needs of the people.

4.2 Growth of the SM Exarchates During the Exarchate period

As I already stated the problems that these mission units were facing were very many. And in most of the cases all these places had similarity in problems and the solutions were also somewhat similar. First and foremost problem faced by these missionaries were the lack of accommodation for the missionary personnel. In most of the cases, in the initial days they had to find accommodation in rented buildings. Among the Syro-Malabar exarchates of Madhya Pradesh we can see a similarity of pattern during the exarchate period. Almost all the centres that the missionaries started in the beginning were, in the available towns or closer to the towns.
4.2.1 Growth of the Exarchate of Sagar

Exarchate of Sagar was the only mission unit which had three somewhat developed centres and that too with rather traditional Christians from military and elsewhere. "The present St Raphel’s church came to existence on 24th October 1890 ... Sixteen years ago in 1874 Father Raphel Livorno O.Cap., then parish priest had laid the foundation stone of the church. Father Raphel had served the Catholic community of Sagar for a long time." Though there was a church and a small presbytery at Sagar there was no facility to house the exarch and his office. Slowly the missionaries started working on developing the infrastructure in different centres.

Shampura, a village near Sagar with Catholics alone had the beginning in 1875 when Fr Raphel Livorno came there with an orphan boy. Shampura has a long history of growth and development. In 1904 government granted 277 acres of jungle land to the orphanage. The Maltese Capuchins took over the management of Shampura in 1926 and in 1929 they handed it over to the Norbertines of Holland. In 1933 when it was brought under the Jabalpur prefecture, St. Joseph's Sisters of Champney came to Shampura. 1968 it came under Sagar which was entrusted to the CMIs. Many CMIs like Frs Gerald, Diego, Prosper, George Chakkalackal and many others were the ones who developed the station. In the recent history Fr Paul a priest from the diocese of Sagar have contributed very much to the growth of the centre."
St Joseph Sisters came to Sagar in 1906 in order to replace the Loretto nuns who were already leaving Sagar. They took over the existing girls school and hostel. Mother St. Joseph, Srs Monica, Augustine, Ignatius, St. John evangelist, Josephine, Philomina, and Mary Francis along with three French sisters formed the first community. In 1969 the girls hostel was closed and a full-fledged English school was started by them.

Perhaps the first centre that came up newly in the exarchate of Sagar was the Holy Family church at Intkhkeri in the district of Raisen. It was completed in record time within two months and was blessed by the Apostolic Nuncio, Rt. Rev. Caprio on his way to Sagar on 6th January 1969. This was a village station. There were Malayalee settlers in the area whose presence made it easier to accomplish the task. On the same day formal inauguration of the exarchate also took place at Sagar. Office and residence of the exarch was completed and was inaugurated on 8th December 1970.

In 1968 itself works to organise immigrant faithful in different areas of the exarchate had started. In Vidisha there were many Christian students in those days. And they were the majority of the faithful who attended religious ceremonies in the pioneering period. In 1968 itself church in Vidisha without a structure got started. Fr Cassius was the pioneer who organised everything initially. FCC sisters reached Vidisha in 1970 and started helping in the activities of the parish and started an English medium school with just seven children. Srs Mary Agnes, Christina, Lisset, and Agila were the pioneers among the sisters.
In 1970 CMC sisters reached Bina and started helping in the parish activities and in running a KG School of the exarchate. Pavitra Hridaya convent-Bina, was the first convent of the sisters’ congregations to start in the exarchate after Msgr Clemens CMI took charge. Already the parish church was functioning there from 1919 on railway lease land. The pioneers among the CMC sisters at Pavitra Hridaya convent were Srs Mary Zacharia, Rogellus, Climacus, Jasintha, and Vivian. Fr Basil CMI was the first parish priest from among the CMIs.

In 1971 a mission station was started in Asoknagar Thahsil headquarters. Along with the parish activities an English medium KG school also was stared by the CMC sisters there. In 1971 itself the Christian community of Ganj Basoda also got organised. Frs Joseph Puthenpurackal CMI and Abraham Thuruthimalil CMI were the founders of Jesupal Ashram at Ganjbasoda. The land for the church was purchased by Fr Antony Chiramel CMI and church was constructed by Fr Joseph Chirayath CMI. Helping in the parish activities and conducting an English medium school were started by the FCC sisters at Ganjbasoda. Here also they started in a rented building. Srs Christiana, Alexis, Canisius, Carla, and Socia were the first batch of sisters in Ganjbasoda.

The desire of the people for English medium school took the missionaries to Sironj. There upon the invitation of the local people Msgr Clemens agreed to start an English medium for them. They gave a municipal building rent free to start the school. In 1973 the Church opened an English medium school for the people. Fr Paul Malieckal was the pioneer here. Since 1973 sisters from CSC Kerala render their services here. The pioneering batch included Srs Alphonsa, Alicia, Eulalia, and Gentia. By 1977 church managed to get a plot of land for the school and it was shifted to its own premises.

In 1971 Mrs Rebecca Diego an aged Catholic donated an old house and a plot of land to the CMI missionaries to whom the Christian activities in the exarchate of Sagar was entrusted by the Pope. From that time on CMI fathers started staying in this property and they have developed it with new buildings, church etc. Veteran missionary Fr Diego and Fr John Kallan and a group of scholastics were among the first inmates of the house which the community named as Carmel Ashram. The blessing of the repaired old building took place on 21st November 1974. Even now the old timers call it ‘Chuyya bangla’ after the old lady who donated it.

In 1973 the mission station at Begumganj had its origin. Here also there were a few Catholics who were in government service. Benedictine Sisters of St. Lioba were rendering their services here in Begumganj and conduct a school of their own. The school was started in 1975. Thereafter many developmental changes have taken place in the mission centre.

Sisters of St. Elizabeth came to Guna in 1974 under the leadership of Sr. Beatrice. They too started in a rented house. Fr Jose Varghese CMI was the brain behind the over all development of the mission station. By 1975 they purchased a plot of land and they moved into their own dwelling. In 1977 the new school building was inaugurated. Srs Mariat, Beatrice, and Grace were the pioneers.

One more group of missionaries from the MMB congregation came to the exarchate in 1975. By October 1976 they stated serving the people of Ganj Basoda through a dispensary and a home for the aged. Mission stations in Semarikalam of Raisen district and Raisen proper had their official origin in 1972 and 1976 respectively. Both the stations were managed by Fr. Harry Alapatt CMI. In Semarikalam it was medical service rendered by the Church. CSC sisters were helping the exarchate to run the dispensary from 1972 onwards. Fr Honorius CMI and Fr John Kollannur contributed much to the growth of the Semarikalam mission station.

Till 1975 the religious services in Raisen station were conducted in the house of one Mr M.T. Joseph. In 1976 onwards Fr Harry CMI was appointed as the priest in charge of Raisen and he started staying in a rented house. He was the one who moulded the station to its stature. In 1976 onwards members of the congregation of St. Francis started rendering their service in the field of education and in the parish activities. The sisters had purchased 12 acres of land in 1975.

In 1975 another plot of land was purchased in Sagar closer to the university with a view to develop a communication centre as well as to cater to the Catholic students who are studying in the university. But the authorities felt that the objectives with which Jyotibhavan was started was met partially only because it was serving as the residence for the CMI scholastics who were doing their university studies.

Silwani was another mission station which was started during the exarchate period. Frs Diego CMI and Jose Kuruthukulangara CMI were the pioneers here. They reached Silwani in the Raisen district in 1975. First they started an English medium school which could not pick up due to the backwardness of the people. And they left that project and devoted their time and resources for developing the better living conditions of the people. This perhaps led to the starting of RDSS a registered society for social service. Fr Diego was the first president of the society. Pratapgargh, Bhamori, Siearmau, and Salaiyya mission stations developed under RDSS as its sub-centres, at a later time.

In 1976 itself a press had been started at Shampura which was later shifted to the city. Already before the exarchate of Sagar was made an eparchy the missionaries had extended to nine more new centres in her territory and this lifted the number of the Catholic institutions in the area to twenty five. And during this period saw the arrival of five more women religious congregations and one from the men religious congregations as the co-workers in the exarchate of Sagar.

Main thrust during this period was given in opening the English medium schools and in organising the scattered immigrant Catholics as a Church in these centres. All the centres opened, had a church though not a completed building to start with, a convent (the residence for the sisters), and a school or a dispensary according to the nature of the service rendered by the Church there. In many places presbytery (residence of the priests) was constructed before the church itself.

4.2.2 Growth of the Exarchate of Satna

Satna exarchate had one established centre when the Vincentian congregation took up the activities in the area. Rewa had its beginning in 1947. Satna, Siddhi, and Nowgong were the centres which got started in 1969 after the Vincentian take over. Singrauli, and Panna mission centres were opened in 1970. Tikka margin mission centre had its beginning in 1972, Pateri in 1973, Karimatt in 1974, Kailaspur and Chhattarpur in 1975, Dewra, Jayant, and Odgady in 1976. Before the exarchate of Satna was made an eparchy she had extended her services to thirteen more centres in six districts. Let us see these centres a bit more closely.

Though Rewa was a mission station which was already existing Satna was to be the headquarters of the exarchate. It had its humble beginning on 26th January 1969. It was Fr Thomas Kuzhippala VC who had pioneered the centre at Satna. S.H sisters came here on 14th June 1973. They started living in a rented house and started teaching in the Vijaya Sishu Vidyalaya which was started by the exarchate. Slowly it developed into a fullfledged higher secondary school with its name Christu Jyoti Shool. The pioneers among S.H sisters at Satna were Srs Divina, pious, and Genevieve. The convent was blessed by the exarch Msg Abraham Mattam on 26th Jan 1975.
It was again Fr Thomas Kuzhippala VC who started the mission station at Siddhi in 1969. It was in Siddhi that FCC sisters started their service in the exarchate. They started teaching in the Gandhi Vidyalaya opened by the exarchate. Srs Boniface, Beena, Mariusha, Anaclete, and Aloysius were the pioneers of the convent. Only three of them were in the staff of the school.

The mission station at Nowgong had its humble beginning when Fr John Rathappilly VC and Fr Chandy Kalapura started staying in a rented house in 1969. Service of the CSN sisters was made available to the station from 1970 onwards. Srs Nirmala, Stansila, and Basil were the pioneering team. In 1971 a KG school was started and it developed into a high school. Gandhi centenary memorial orphanage which was opened in 1971 caters to the destitute and physically challenged girls.

From 1969 onwards the pioneer Fathers of the exarchate took care of the spiritual needs of the Catholic employees of the Northern Coalfields Limited at Singrauli. Though some land was purchased for the church in 1970 the construction started only at a later date. Fr John Kavunkal VC was the one who started construction work at the station. The church was blessed on 28th September 1975 by the exarch. FCC sisters came to Singrauli in 1971. They were Srs Boniface, Lawrence, and Arcencia. In 1971 Christujyoti School had its beginning under the name MCM Sishu Vidyalaya in Hindi medium. In 1976 the construction of the convent was completed and inaugurated.
Panna mission station had its beginning in 1970. Frs Emmanuel Paliakunnel VC and Mathew Thoyalil VC were the pioneers who started the activities there staying at a rendered house called ‘lalkoti.’ The presbytery was ready in 1972.\(^{43}\) 1971 on 26\(^{th}\) June the ‘Lalkoti’ was given to the sisters as temporary residence. Before this they were staying in another rendered house near the bus station at Panna. The first community of sisters included Sr. Venslaus, Florentine, and Annie Kalapurackal. In 1971 itself a new school was opened which eventually became Lisieux Anand Highschool.\(^{44}\) In 1973 an orphanage for boys also started. Fathers were taking care of this in the beginning.\(^{45}\)

Tikamgarh mission station was opened under the initiative of pioneering missionary Fr Thomas Kuzhippala. 1968 onwards he was offering holy mass at intervals at the residence of Mr. George Upendra Soreng SP of Tikamgarh. Staying in his house Fathers who came after him purchased a plot of land for the mission\(^{46}\) and by 1973 the church construction was completed and was blessed on 31\(^{st}\) January by the exarch Msgr Mattam.\(^{47}\) Sisters of SH congregation started rendering their services in Tikamgarh from 1973 onwards. Srs. Assumpta, Christy, Grace, Rose and Montfort were the members of the pioneering group. In 1973 itself one school also was started by the Church there.\(^{48}\)

Patteri which grew to be a formation centre of the eparchy had its beginning in 1973. This was a plot of 10 acres of land which was purchased and given by the diocese Jabalpur the mother diocese of the exarchate as a patrimony. Later some more land was purchased in view of development. By 1975 Br Thomas Chinnangathottathil started supervising the farm. In due course a chapel was blessed for taking care of the spiritual needs of the people. By 1977 construction work for a hospital also commenced.49

Karimatti which was named Udayagiri by the missionaries had its missionary beginning in 1974. Fr Antony Plackal VC was the one who began here. By 1975 CMC sisters reached here to render their services. The pioneers among them were Srs. Anslem, and Deena. A dispensary too was opened in 1975.50 An school also was started by the missionaries in 1974.51

The starting of Chattarpur mission station was a long drawn process. The Asst. Parish priest of Nowgong used to offer Holy Mass at Chattarpur on Sundays. But it was conducted in different houses. In 1976 Fr John parayil VC managed to buy some land for the church though the church construction took place at a later date only.52

Kailaspur mission station on the way to Chitrakoot was started by Bro. James VC. The Holy Mass for the community for the first time was celebrated by Fr varghese Naikomparambil VC on 10th February 1975.53 It was the presbytery which was constructed first here. This was blessed on 20th Feb 1977. Sisters of the Congregation of the Holy Family started rendering their service in running the medical clinic for people of the locality in 1977. Srs. Rose, Valerian, and Sudha were pioneers.54

Organising Church activities in Jayant also was to cater to the spiritual needs of the believers who were employees in the coal mine. It had its starting in 1976. The mission station has an English medium school too. CHF sisters help the exarchate to run the school. They came here in 1976. Sisters from other congregations also teach in the school here.55

The starting of Dewra Mission station had its root in the Atharhar mission station started by Bro James VC in 1972. But the construction of the Bakia dam caused the centre to be shifted to Dewra. This took place in 1976.56 Fr Jacob Kalapura VC and John Vadakeparambil were the pioneers here. SH siters were here from the beginning of Atharhar.

Odagady station had its history from 1957. Some Christians were living here from that time onwards. From 1975 Fr John Kavunkal VC had been staying in a small hut to cater to the spiritual needs of the people. FCC sisters were serving the people of the area from 1976. There is a dispensary here. The construction of the church building took place at a later date only.57

4.2.3 Growth of the Exarchate of Ujjain

We have already seen the beginning of a church at Ujjain by Frs Eric and Bernard. Already before the MST fathers took over sisters of FSMA congregation from Mhow were conducting a school in Ujjain. They came to Ujjain in 1964. The church which was there already became the Cathedral of the exarchate on July 28, 1968.58 SH sisters from Kerala came to Ujjain in 1969. They started rendering their service in the medical field. Staying in a rented house they started a dispensary in the city. This was the seed of humble beginning of Pushpa mission hospital in 1974.

Shajapur was one of the first mission stations of the exarchate. It was Exarch J Perumattam himself who was the cause of starting a mission station at Shajapur. On 3rd December 1969 he paid a courtesy visit to the collector of Shajapur. Then he expressed the desire to have a good and a hospital run by the missionaries in the town. And the newly arrived missionary from Kerala Fr George Kuzhikandam took up this challenging task at Shajapur. By March 1970 a dispensary was opened and in July the school also was opened. FCC sisters are rendering their services from that time on.

Rev Frs Francis Kandathil and Paul Naikarakudy the pioneer missionaries got acquainted with some government officials and they encouraged the Fathers to start a convent school at Shuljawur. Along with some believers they themselves found out the land for the purpose and the transactions were over in 1970. Fr Paul Naikarakudy began to live in a rented house at Shuljawur. Later Fr Paul made a temporary shed in the purchased land and started staying there by March 1971. In June 1971 sisters from FCC (Palai) arrived at Shuljawur to start their service. They too started in a rented house and in November they shifted to the school building. In 1973 a hostel for the boys also started. During Fr Thomas Varakil’s time a church was constructed.

Nagda had a community of believers who were gathering in any one of the houses for Sunday worship. In 1970 Fr J Ayathamattam was appointed as priest in charge. He started living in a house of one of the parishioners. Staying there he purchased a plot of land for the church.\textsuperscript{61} In 1971 they started an English medium school. By 1973 school got a new building. In 1974 a small beautiful church was added to the mission.\textsuperscript{62}

Chandassery mission station, started in 1970 is seven kilometres away from Ujjain. The land was purchased one year before. Frs Paul Naikarakudy, Francis Kandathil and Joseph Karikilamthadam were the pioneers here.\textsuperscript{63} In 1970 itself SABS sisters started their service here. There is a small hospital here. The apostolate of medical care is done by the sisters.\textsuperscript{64}

Barnagar mission station had its seed in the local contact made in 1971 by Frs Plackeel, Valiyamangalam and Karikilamthadam.\textsuperscript{65} And they purchased a plot of land in the town. In 1972 Fr George Thoomkuzhy started staying in a rented house assisted by Bro Sebastian Elanjimattam. In 1974 under the leadership of Fr Puthenpurackal and FCC sisters, a dispensary and a nursery school were inaugurated. Later FCC sisters discontinued their service there and the DST sisters took up the service there. In 1976 Fr Jose Peringamala was appointed there and it was he who completed the construction work of the school and hostel.\textsuperscript{66}

Fr Augustine Kandathil took the initiative to start a mission station at Rajgarh. Organising the faithful there prompted him to enter into the service of the people here. In 1971 he purchased a plot of land from Raja Vikramadiya Singh and opened a school in the royal palace. By 1972, the first floor of the building which was occupied by government officers were vacated. By 1978 the whole occupation of the building was vacated by the government. There is an English medium school here.67

Piploda mission station of the exarchate of Ujjain had its beginning in 1972. Fr Francis Kandathil was the pioneer of the station. From March 1973 he started staying in a small mud house which was built at Piploda. In 1975 DST sisters joined him to render their services. A dispensary, hostel, and a school are run by the missionaries here.68

The mission property at Kotra was purchased from the Rajgarh royal family in 1973. Since 1974 the mission orientation course for the sisters was conducted here. It also takes up non-formal education in nearby villages and has a dispensary.69

Biaora mission station was started in 1973. Fr Zacharias Thudipara the pioneer of the mission station here started an English school in 1973 with the help of SH sisters. It was only in 1974 a plot of land was purchased for the mission and the construction work of the school also took place soon.70

Narsingarh had Christian presence even before the inauguration of the exarchate. The request of the faithful to start a mission centre prompted the exarch to take steps in this direction. It was Srs Reena and Geena of DST who had the blessing to be the pioneers. They started a nursery school in the area. Fr Thomas Varakil was the priest in charge when the mission station was started.71
Kamed can trace its origin in 1973 when MST Fathers wanted to buy a plot of land and start a regional house. Fr Placeel the regional director took interest to buy the land and constructed a small house. Fr Augustine Kandathil was the first priest in charge. Slowly this developed into Ruhalaya major seminary.

From 1970 onwards priests and some SH sisters used to visit Bajrangarh and render their services through mobile clinic to the people. It was one of such visits and the medical assistance given to an injured person which was at the root of the starting of Bajrangarh mission station. The formal opening of the station was held only in the eparchy period.

Agar was another centre which sprouted during the exarchate period. Fr Jose Nedumthakidy was the pioneer of this station. It had its beginning in 1976. This station too had its development during the eparchy period.

4.2.4 Growth of Jagdalpur Exarchate

Jagdalpur exarchate had two mission stations when the CMIs took up the responsibility of the mission works in the exarchate. They were Jagdalpur and Kirandul. After the annexure of Bastar to the Prefecture of Raipur, Pilar Fathers Lulu Menesis and Nicolo Dias established Catholic church at Lalbagh in Jagdalpur. In Jagdalpur Fr Simonstock CMI was the pioneer among the pioneers from the CMIs. Fr Joseph Puthenpura CMI was the interim vicar for some time in place of Fr Simon Stock. Fr Michael Mundathanath was the founding principal of Nirmala Vidyalayam which was started in 1972 itself in Jagdalpur. Since 1972 SABS sisters also started serving the mission station at Jagdalpur. Srs Concepta, Mary Joseph, Alice Thayil, and Mercy were pioneers among SABS sisters. The headquarters of the exarchate was also at Jagdalpur. In 1972 Msgr Paulinus Jeerakath CMI took charge of the exarchate.

Kirandul mission station had her beginning by Fr Ubaldo Fernandes of Pilar fathers from Raipur. There he started an English school with the help of Kristhu Sevika Sisters. Fr Kurian Machery was the pioneer among the CMI sisters who took charge at Kirandul. The management of the school was entrusted to the CMC sisters from Pala, in Kerala. Due to some unexpected and unforeseen problems, the management of the school was transferred to the exarchate in 1976. Srs Patience, Lucin Mary, Deepa, Catheline and Ansa were the first batch of CMC sisters who served at Kirandul.

Tom Sadan at Bijapur had its beginning in 1972. Fr Abraham Thuruthimalil CMI was the pioneer here. A plot of land was already purchased by Fr Satya of the Pilar Fathers before the CMI sisters come into the picture. Fr Abraham started living in a rented house and built a small house in the plot of land and shifted to it in 1973. In 1974 SH sisters reached here to render their services to the people of the locality. Srs Francis Mary, Mary Tom, and Ancy Augustine were the pioneers. It started as a medical care centre. Later boarding and parish church was added to it.
In 1972 itself Fr Thomas Vadaparambil CMI started the mission station at Kanker. He started in a rented house. CMC sisters also reached Kanker simultaneously. They run an English medium school. Srs Bulbina, Alphonse Maria, and Fabiola were the pioneers among sisters. There is a boarding, parish church, and a convent along with the school here.\textsuperscript{76}

Since 1968 the spiritual needs of the Catholics of Bacheli was taken care of by fathers from Kirandul mission station. In 1974 CMC sisters started a nursery school in a couple of rooms of Kendriya Vidyalaya there. In 1976 DBS sisters took up the school management from CMC sisters. Srs Deepa and Ansa were the pioneers among CMC sisters, Srs Imelda and Maurelia were the pioneers from DBS sisters to run the school. Fr Kurian Machery CMI was the first priest in charge of the mission station. Fr Louis Mathew was the first manager of the school.\textsuperscript{77}

In 1973 mission station at Geedom was started by Fr Joseph Puthenpura CMI. It served as the centre of CMI provincial administration for a short period.

Fr Augustine Srampickal CMI started a mission station near Narayanpur Thahsil. It was inaugurated on 20\textsuperscript{th} February 1974. In 1976 ASMI sisters started rendering their services in the health care programmes of the centre. Srs Thekla, Louis Gonsaga, and Berta were the pioneers from the sisters.
Kondagaon started receiving the services of Christian missionaries through the initiative of Fr Antony Maris CMI in 1974. He started staying in a rented house, later purchased a plot of land in 1976 and constructed a small building. Snehagiri Missionary Sisters (SMS) from Kerala started rendering their services to the mission from 1977. Now there are two convents (CMC & SMS), an English medium school run by CMC sisters, an institute for the physically challenged (MC Brothers), and a parish church. Pioneers among SMS sisters were Srs Kusum, Sudha, Pradeep, and Sneha and from the CMCs Srs Pettit Treesa, Grace, and Merin. Both the groups of sisters help in the parish activities.

In 1974 Fr Thomas poothakuzhy CMI purchased a plot of land in Konta. In 1975 DBS sisters opened their first house in Konta. DBS was a pious association started by the Exarch. Srs. Mary Treesa, Deepa and Lilly were the pioneers among them. Parish, Boarding, dispensary etc are here.

In 1976 itself MSMI sisters also started their service at Karithgaon. Dispensary, adult education centre, parish etc function here. Among the MSMIs Srs Sophy, Emily, Sosima, Xavier, and Leoni were the first batch to render their service.

Gangalloor of Bijapur Tahsil, started receiving the service of the Catholic missionaries since 1976 under Tom Sadan of Bijapur. With the initiative of SH sisters and Fr Abraham Thuruthimalil Gangalloor

4.4 Major Activities, Special Thrusts and Personnel

The creation of Syro-Malabar Exarchates in M.P into Eparchies had its impact on the growth of these units. Higher respectability brought on them higher responsibility too. The initial birth pangs became less and slowly planned development was executed in all these eparchies.

The major initiatives in these dioceses seem to be in the educational front. The statistics of each diocese will tell us this is true. According to the Statistics of the diocese of Ujjain they run 127 institutions which are directly of indirectly functioning to impart education. This includes hostels, balwadies, and non-formal education centres and formal schools. Next slot may go to health care activities. In the diocese of Ujjain there are 19 centres which have health care activities as their thrust. This is the case with other dioceses too. Only the numbers are different. Topmost priority is given for the spread of education in all these dioceses/eparchies.

During the eparchial period also the thrust to extend to the new places continued. During the last decade of 20th century all these eparchies have established their own minor seminaries, in view of training the missionary personnel for the future.

The existence and life of a Church is not merely in extending the external structures, but also includes the invigorating the Christian life of its members. For this the individual dioceses have done their bit. But it was the diocese/eparchy of Sagar which took the lead in this direction. In view of this Bishop Clemens had established a centre at Jyothibhavan-Sagar. The activities guided from Jyothibhavan were many. It served as a Catholic information centre, organised youth forums (Started a student movement called SUNS. It had its own mouthpiece called “Pratibha”). Jyothikalasagar, a department which communicated the word of God through performing arts, and managed a liturgical and catechetical centre which prepared and published material for liturgy in Hindi. The liturgical and catechetical centre had three active wings under this. They were: Jyothi Publications, Jyothi Audio-Visual centre, and Jyothi library.\textsuperscript{178}

The period between 1982-1990, Jyoti Audio-Visual centre brought out 13 cassettes in Hindi. They are Hosana, Vandana, Jai Masih, Pukar, Abhishek, Upasana, Pushpanjali, Aradhana, Sandesh, Sradhanjali, Tarang, and Navdhara. Dhara was brought out prior to 1982. Sradhanjali was brought out sometime after 1990. The contributors to these cassettes in lyrics and music were Frs James M.L, Varghese Alengaden, Paulachan, David Chalackal, Sebastian Eluvathingal, Amarnad, and Mr P.P Johnson.

Publications under the diocese of Sagar during this period were: Pratah Upasana, Office for the dead both by Amarnad CMI, Croos ka Rastha by Fr Michael and Amarnad. Almost all the dioceses had done some sort of compilations of song books like Bastranjali, Geetanjali etc. Sagar diocese under the patronage of Bishop Joseph Pastor had initiated the canonical prayer books in Hindi (four volumes). The translation work was done by Fr Michael Palamparambil CMI. With the help of Fr
Michael the diocese has brought out Hindi texts for various occasions like priestly ordination, Christmas and Year ending services, Rosary in the song form, New set of Mass songs etc. In 1990 Jyothibhavan became a full-fledged parish and other activities were stopped.\(^{179}\)

In 1998 bishop Joseph Pastor Neelankavil of Sagar eparchy entrusted Fr Paul Pallipadan CMI the department of communication and Mass Media and he started a new venture named Navtarang. It takes care of the media production and performing arts, for liturgy, religious and national integration. The major productions of the centre are audio-visual cassettes Tara, Christ Jayanthi vol. I & II, Navgeet, Ashish, Dhyana Vachan, Shantisudha, Prahbu ke Sath vol.1-5 and Ish Charit vol I & II, Pascha, Seva, Vante Mataram, and Upasana, & Abhishek (remake). Some of these productions are in Bundeli. The lyrics are written by Fr James ML, Francis David, Sr Mercy OSB, Fr Paul Pallipadan, Sr Sheila Kannath CMC and Ashok. The music is given by Mr Matthew Cleton, Mr P.P Johnson, Mr Dilip Bose, Mr Anoop Sharma, Fr Amarnad, and Fr Sebastian Eluvathingal.\(^{180}\)

All the dioceses have their quarterly news bulletins. Jagadlpur and Sagar have got one each college run by them. Satna, Jagdalpur, and Ujjain have hospitals with better service facilities. Though all these eparchies except Jagdalpur (1972), was started (1968) simultaneously, they differ one another in the different aspects of growth.

Numerical growth of the Christians in these dioceses have come mainly from immigration. The more they spread to different centres the more Christians also come there for different services. There is a departure from the old style of preaching and baptising among Catholics. This may be the reason that their numbers are not increasing as their centres increase.
