ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It may be acknowledged that a study of the research work cannot be completed without the constant help and encouragement from various people to whom I owe a sincere debt of gratitude. First and foremost, with great pleasure and reverence, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Dr. S.R. Ahlawat, Professor, Department of Sociology, M.D. University, Rohtak for his valuable guidance. His indefatigable fact finding zeal was a source of constant inspiration. In fact, but for his painstaking supervision and inspiring discussion this thesis would have never attained this stage. It has been indeed an extreme privilege and one of the most rewarding experience of life to have been associated with a persons of his caliber.

I am also indebted to Dr. (Mrs.) Neerja Ahlawat, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak for her incessant encouragement, affectionate guidance at all the stages of this work. Her enthusiasm, analytical outlook and constructive criticism contributed a lot in presenting this work in its present form.

I would like to place on record my gratitude and thanks to Dr. Kanwar Chauhan, Professor and Head Department of Sociology, M.D. University, Rohtak for his timely advices and constant encouragement.

I also owe thanks to all the teachers of Sociology Department for their constructive suggestions and valuable help regarding my study.

I am also thankful to all staff of the Central Library, M.D. University, Rohtak and Library of J.N.U. for their generous help extended directly and indirectly from time to time, related to their respective job pursuit.
I am very thankful to my respondents, who have furnished me information on various aspects pertaining to my investigation.

It is a unique privilege to express my veneration to my parents and all my family members who deserve more than a written acknowledgment throughout the process of work and who bestowed their pious blessing, incessant encouragement and financial support for my higher academic pursuits.

I must convey my deepest affection and appreciation to my wife Mrs. Anamika for her keen sense of understanding and affection of my daughter Vanshika in bringing me at this apex.

My deepest appreciation goes to my friends Mr. Puneet Kumar Puniya, Mr. Ravi Dutt Badsa, Mr. Ram Niwas and Mr. Deepak Dahiya for their valuable help and support at every stage of the work.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not convey my thanks and appreciation to Mr. Rajkumar Pahwa for typing this manuscript so neatly and meticulously.

Above all, I thank the Almighty God for showering his blessings upon me.
