BIBLIOGRAPHY

Abdulkafi Albirini, (2004). Department of Educational Policy and Leadership. Technologies of Instruction and Media Program, 203 Jennings Hall, 1735 Neil Avenue, Columbus, USA.

Barbara Denson, (2005). Teacher attitudes toward technology. Middle school teachers in rural schools in southern middle Tennessee from integrating technology.

Bolliger Doris, U. (2012). Computer, the Internet, and online course anxiety, and overall course satisfaction.

Cem Cuhadar, (2012). The relationship between problematic Internet use and social interaction anxiety among pre-service teachers. Turkish state university.

Chifang Lu., & Larry Miller, E. (2003). Instructional Technology Competencies Perceived as Needed by Vocational Teachers in Ohio and Taiwan. Raleigh, North Carolina, USA.

Clarisse, O., Lima, & Scott Brown, W. (2005). Teachers’ perception of their classroom technological resources and the perceived feasibility of implementation of their project tpack survey: summary of the key findings. Perth Australia.

anxiety, and optimism, Computers in Human Behaviour 22 SSSS(2), 1072-1079.

Lorraine Beaudin & Corey Hadden, (2011). Technology and Pedagogy:

Matilda Miller, (2010). An investigation of perceived anxiety toward new software technologies among teachers in a Mississippi rural city school district. Mississippi State University Mississippi State, MS, USA.

Muhammad Sukri Saud, (2004). Computer technology competencies perceived as needed by vocational and technical teachers in Malaysia. Ohio State University Columbus, OH, USA.

Norris, (2007). Mood change and computer anxiety of the undergraduate students of Ireland in UK.

Ra vanatta, & Banister, S. (2008). Impact of assessing technology competencies of incoming teacher education in bowling green state university at US.

Information Technology, Learning and Performance Journal, 19 (2).

towards computer. Experiments in Education, 30 (2), 7-12.

achievement in physics as related to certain variables.
Ph.D., dissertation work, Annamalai University, Tamilnadu, India.

Publications (P) Ltd, Hyderabad.

Rajasekar, S. (2005). University students’ attitude towards computer, SETRAD, Recent Researches in Education and Psychology, 10 (2), 1-5.

scale. National Psychological Corporation, Agra. India.

Psychological Corporation, Agra. India.

Rajasekar, S., & Saravanan, S. (2012). A study on technopedagogical knowledge of teachers working in B.Ed., colleges as related to their attitude towards using technology in teaching in Salem District, Unpublished M. Phil., dissertation work, Annamalai University, Tamilnadu, India.

Sathiyaraj, K., & Singaravelu, S. (2013). Techno-pedagogical competency of higher secondary school teachers of Cuddalore District. International journal of teacher educational research (ijter), 2(8).

Yuehua Zhang, (2000). A Project-Based Learning Approach to Helping Pre-Service Teachers Develop Technology Competencies. The technology source.
WEBLIOGRAPHY

www.a4esl.org
www.aiaer.150m.com
www.ala.org
www.amazon.com
www.annualreviews.org.
www.answers.cbfl.net
www.answers.com
www.answers.google.com
www.ascilite.org.au
www.avconline.avc.edu
www.encyclopedia.com
www.epm.sagepub.com
www.eric.com
www.eric.ed.gov
www.eserver.org
www.esr.lib.ttu.edu
www.experimentsineducation.150m.com
www.experimentsineducation.150m.com
www.ieeexplore.ieee.org
www.ieeexplore.ieee.org
www.ijter.com
www.iste.org
www.iste.org
www.jmir.org.
www.jmir.org.
www.joe.org
www.joe.org
www.jstor.org.
www.kluweronline.com
www.lee.edu
www.llt.msu.edu
www.math.umt.edu
www.mcrel.org.
www.msu.edu
www.ncrel.org.
www.netc.org.
www.scholar.lib.vt.edu
www.search.medscape.com
www.solve.com
www.sosig.ac.uk
www.springerlink.com
www.tamilnadugovernmentdistrictsmaponlion.com