ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work would not have been possible without the support of many people. I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the people who have been an instrumental in successful completion of my research work.

I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my guide and supervisor, Dr. K. Dhanasekaran M.Com., M.Phil., Ph.D., Associate Professor of Commerce, Salem Sowdeswari College, Salem – 10. His wide knowledge and his logical way of thinking have been a great value for me. His understanding, encouraging and personal guidance have provided a good basis for the present thesis.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to Tmt. A. Kannammal the Correspondent, Secretary and Managing Trustee, for having given me the opportunity to undertake this research and their constant encouragement and keen personal interest in my research work.

My most sincere and heartfelt thanks to Dr. V. Singaram, Principal, Salem Sowdeswari College, Salem – 10 for his benevolent encouragement throughout this research work.

It is with immense gratitude that I acknowledge the support and help of Dr.C.Dhanapal, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce, Salem Sowdeswari College, Salem – 10 for helping me in carrying out the statistical analysis.

I am grateful to thank Mr. A. Murugan, Associate Professor, Department of Statistics, Salem Sowdeswari College, Salem – 10 for constant help to complete the research work.
I cannot find words to express my gratitude to Mr. J. Rajendra Prasad, Chairman, Jairam Arts and Science College, Salem – 8 and Mr. R. Manikandan M.Com (CA), M.Phil., Correspondent, and Mr. G. Radhakrishnan M.A., M.Phil., B.Ed., Principal, for permitting me to do this research programme.

I warmly thank Dr. K. Jagadeesan for his valuable advice and friendly help. His extensive discussions around the work and interesting explorations in operations have been very helpful for this study.

During this work I have collaborated with many colleagues for whom I have great regard, and I wish to extend my warmest thanks to all those who have helped me with my work in the Department of Commerce, Jairam Arts & Science College, Salem.

My special gratitude is due to my father Mr. P. Kasiviswanathan, my mother Mrs. K. Kumudha, my brother Mr. K. Janarthanan and their family member Mrs. J. Sasikala, S.J. Pranav Viswanath and J. Prabanjani for their loving support.

I owe my loving thanks to my wife Mrs. S. Roopakala, my daughter Innaya Suressh, my son S. Shachin Viswanaath. Without their encouragement and understanding this work would have been impossible for me.

With genuine humility, I am obediently thankful to the Almighty, for all his uncountable bounties and guidance without which this work would have never become a reality.
