Acknowledgements

The work I present here took lots of effort, not only my own but also number of people who directly and indirectly supported me and helped me finish it.

It's my privilege to express my indebtedness and deep sense of gratitude to my guiding teacher, Dr. M. V. Rao, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, Course Director Biomedical technology and Human Genetics, for giving me an opportunity to undertake this research under his supervision and introduces me to the field of research. His keen interest, constant encouragement, valuable suggestions, constructive criticism, dexterous guidance resulted in the successful accomplishment of this project.

I am thankful to all teaching staff of the department. Specially I am very thankful to Dr. Divya Chandel and Dr. D. D. Jhala for their precious suggestions, encouragement, motivation and constant support. Their concern and care for me never allowed unfavorable conditions to overrule my state of mind.

I am very grateful to Dr. Vaishali Hydrabadi and Dr. Sunita Chawla for their sound technical advices and assistance, stimulating science discussion and ready to help whenever required. They helped me in execution of the experimental work, right from inception to the end. Their technical expertise came in handy in a lot of tough situations. Their interactions remain cherished forever in my memory.

I am also thankful to my seniors Dr. Avani Gopalkrishnan and Dr. Hemlata Tiwari for their valuable suggestions, necessary skills of experimental work and constant help which kept up tempo of my research.

I would like to make very special mention of Shiva Shankaran Chettiar and Jignasa Dattani my friends and colleagues for their eternal support and inspiration. Working together with them was a wonderful experience and without combined approach and efforts either the beginning or the completion of this work would not have had materialized. We not only just worked together but laughed and shared the difficult moments of life and research together. I further extend my thanks to for their generous support and encouragement.

My genuine thanks goes to Dr. T. K. Das and Dr. T. C. Nag, Associate professors, AIIMS, New Delhi for their valuable help for the transmission electron microscopy work. I also like to thank Dr. M. M. Sarin, Professor, PRL, Ahmedabad for his kind support and valuable time for the analysis of the chromium content from tissue.

Collective and individual acknowledgments are also owed to my lab mates Tapan Patel, Anshita Purohit, Ravi Meda, Dhara Vyas, Swati Thakur, Rajendra Bhatt, Shahil Shah and Gaurang Sindhav their presence somehow perpetually refreshed and scientific discussion lead to an intellectual ambience.

I extended my thanks to non teaching staff of Department of Zoology and BMT for their generous support all through my tenure as a research student. Special thanks are to Ms. Bindu Thakkar, E M. technician for electron microscope work at our department.

I acknowledge the financial support I have received in the form of Research Fellow from Clinic facility of Zoology Department.

My sincere gratitude to all my friends who have made my life blossom even in hard days and stood with me in all circumstances. Though listing all of them would not be feasible but to name a few Bhavesh Mojidra, Mayur, Rajshi Chavda, Sandeep Munjapara, Asuthosh Khamar, Kaushal Patel, Rudraksh Patel, Arvind Bhabhor, Mrunalini Dave, Shivangi Mehta, Jeny Koshy, Anant Mehta, Krishna Prajapati.

Words fail me to express my appreciation to my wife Heena whose dedication, love and persistent confidence in me, has taken the load off my shoulder. I owe her for being unselfishly let her intelligence, passions, and ambitions collide with mine. I extend my gratitude to my brother Rajesh Patel for his constant support and understanding during my study. Last but not the least I would like to thank my Parents. The constant inspiration and guidance kept me focused and motivated. I am grateful to my father for giving me the support and strength to complete this task. I can't express my gratitude for my mother in words, whose unconditional love has been my greatest strength.

Lastly I thank one and all for being so enduring with me and helping me to complete this task of my life.

Alpesh Patel