ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Before having a look into the present research I wish the reader to be familiar with all those on whose able shoulders the foundations of the present work have been laid and without whose support this would have been a thought only.

My guide, Dr CN Patel, Principal, Shri, Sarvajanik Pharmacy College, Mehsana, rightly deserves my reverent and solemn gratitude for his able guidance, his valuable suggestions and constructive criticism during the course of research. He was kind enough to have given me the opportunity to work under him in spite of his various obligations, academic as well as administrative. His patience in listening to my side of argument, howsoever ridiculous, was unparalleled. The debt can never be repaid.

The contribution of Dr DR Shah, Principal, Maliba Pharmacy College, Bardoli, can not be put into words. He has been the pillar of moral strength for me in the moments of impatience and desperation. He very altruistically, supported and helped me pursue this research providing necessary facilities at the institute to carry out the research. He has been with me through thick and thin. Whatever my professional standing is today, it’s all due to him. Without him this work would not have seen the light of the day.

I am grateful to Dr SA Shah, In-charge Post Graduate Studies, Maliba Pharmacy College, Bardoli, for his constant supervision, accurate and to-the-point analysis and professional criticism of my work. He has an eye for perfection and minute detail which made my work easier. I really am indebted to him.

I must take this opportunity to thank my parents. They have made me the person I am. Their upbringing and values inculcated in me have been the guiding light in my life. I pray for their well-being and wish I could spend more time with them. The love and affection of Shefali, my wife and Eishan, my son is second to none. They are the ones who have borne the worst of me, subjected to my various moods and unpredictability. This is the time I pay them back with the same affection.

Last but not the least, I must appreciate the cheerful and lively company of my colleagues who kept me amused and have also contributed with a lot of useful suggestions and practical help during the course of research.
