ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A formal acknowledgement will hardly meet the ends of justice in the expression of my deep sense of gratitude and obligation to all those who helped me in the completion of this research. This research is the result of the guidance, assistance and inspiration of several people throughout the study.

First of all, I am indeed thankful to Almighty for keeping me active courageous through divine support and kirpa to complete this work efficiently and effectively.

I express my sincere gratitude to my research supervisors Prof. Dr. S. K. Bansal, School of Management Studies, Punjabi University, Patiala, for their valuable suggestions, inspiring guidance and all out support in producing this thesis from the conceptual to the completion stage. It is their profound subject knowledge that they infused in me and their perpetual guidance that I could deliver the best and for that matter, would remain indebted to them.

I am also extremely thankful to Dr. Pushpinder Singh Gill, Head of Department, Punjabi University, Patiala for giving me kind opportunity to carry out research work efficiently. I also thank Prof. A.S.Chawla, Prof. Gurdip Singh Batra and all the fellow faculty members of School of management Studies, Punjabi University, Patiala, for their guidance and support.

My appreciation goes to Prof. Sanjay Kaushik and Prof. Meenakshi Malhotra of University Business School, Panjab University, Chandigarh. I take this opportunity to wish my heartfelt thanks to HR Head of SAIL for their guidance and support. I am also extremely thankful to Ass Prof. Naveen Sharma of Department of Economics and Prof. Suresh Kumar Sharma of Department of Statistics, Panjab University, Chandigarh for providing guidance and encouragements to the success of my academic goals.

I profoundly express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Vinod Kumar, Head, Department of Economics, DAV College, Chandigarh for his honest support, saintly encouragement, valuable suggestions and frequent discussions. I am very thankful to Dr. B. C. Joshan, Principal, DAV College, Chandigarh who always encouraged me to do the best and face the challenges with smiling face. His invaluable directions at every juncture stimulated me to achieve higher and higher goal.
I express my deepest gratitude to managers and employees who are working in different departments of different branches in public and private sector banks in Tricity for providing me the necessary data and assistance to carry out this research successfully.

My special thanks to my parents, who have stood firmly besides me in all my endeavours and activities. Their unquestioned faith and unstinted support in me has been one of the foundations in all my work. I appreciate the affection, care, generosity and support, which I received from my parents; it is truly invaluable. And finally my heartfelt appreciation to my husband, my daughter and my son who have always helped me with their calm yet caring voice of reason. Their constant encouragement helped me throughout my research work. I am also very thankful to my mother & father in law for their encouragement and sacrifice made throughout this course as well as my life. I also convey my sincere thanks to my sister in law Neerja Jain who guided me in course of writing the thesis.

I wish to thanks my friend and colleague Asst Prof. Abha who provided useful guidance and support. And very special thanks to my friend Mona who encouraged and supported me to complete this thesis successfully. I am also extremely thankful to my dear friend Aditi Garg who guided me in course of writing the thesis.

My thanks are also due to all respondents who favourably responded to the questionnaire and spared time out of their busy schedules to grant personal interviews for this research.

I also thank all who have helped me at every step of the project and always backed me up under all circumstances. Finally, I would like to convey my sincere thanks to all the researchers and literature writers whom I might have missed in reference/bibliography section of present study, because but for their help and dedication, completion of this thesis certainly would not have been possible.
