ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the pursuit of my studies, at the very outset I acknowledge with sincere gratitude the cooperation and guidance extended to me by my Supervisor and Guide Dr. R.M. Pant, Professor, CMS, NERIST without which the submission of my thesis would have never been possible. His cooperation and inputs have shaped each aspect of my study. Words are inadequate to express my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to him. I am also extremely grateful to all faculties in Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, NERIST for their guidance and cooperation.

I also extend my most sincere and heartfelt thanks to Director, NERIST, Nirjuli Director, State Institute of Rural Development (SIRD), Itanagar and all the staff and officials of NERIST in general and Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Center for Management Studies and Academic Section in particular for facilitating and being very supportive throughout.

I am grateful to all the officials/respondents for being cooperative in the process of my field work for this research. I also would express my heartfelt gratitude to all my close friends for their support. My special thanks goes to Ms. Reena Thapa, Ms. Likha Eicher and Shri Taku Sira for their support during the process of the field work/survey.

I would also extend my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Rakesh Srivastava, Deputy Director, SIRD and his family members for being supportive and bearing with me during the period of research and providing me valuable inputs to improve the quality of my work.

My sincere gratitude and respect must also be mentioned for my father Shri P.K. Kunjappa and my mother Mrs. Kayum Jini, for their blessings and their constant motivation. I most profusely also thank my wife Mrs. Meenang Mamai and my daughter Ms. Adishree for bearing with me and supporting me in all possible manners. I also thank all others family members and my friends whose best wishes and blessings have always been with me and was a source of constant motivation and support for completing my Ph.D thesis.
