ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

He showers endless blessings and I bow my head forever.

At the outset, the debts are still due for my revered guide, professor M. S. Razeena Padma, Professor and Director, School of Behavioural Sciences and Dean, Faculty of Behavioural Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, for she has made my pen as far as possible a prolific one. The approachability that was enjoyed, when I was naive; the constructive criticisms that were received, when I conceived the topic; the comments that were directed, when I sailed through; and the harbor that was provided, when I was about to sink at the verge of the completion... all are remembered with heartfelt gratitude.

Dr. P. S. Sukumaran, Senior grade lecturer in special education, School of Behavioural Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, is a name worth mentioning with sincerity, for he has taught the essence of precision and ethics.

Indeed it was a great privilege, that I could rejuvenate and rekindle those earlier lessons with Dr. Immanuel Thomas, Reader in Psychology, Department of Psychology, Kerala University, Trivandrum. He has rendered his unsparing support, in carving the technical body of this research work.

Ms. Soya Sadanandan, Lecturer in Public Health, School of Medical Education, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, and Dr. Anishya Jayadev, Research Officer, Department of Demographic Studies, Kerala University, Trivandrum, both of them have contributed fervently well, with meaningful corrections during the translation work.
All the other staff of School of Behavioural Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, deserve a special acknowledgement, for I could get their helping hand at every stage of this investigation. The library staffs, both in the department and in the university library, are remembered with deepest gratitude. They have helped me with the required database and the information, which, if not, would have been a head-breaking task.

Dr. H Sobhana, Junior Consultant in Psychiatric Social Work, NIMHANS, Bangalore, my real friend and mentor, who could act as a source of strength in various ways. She is remembered with love.

The expectations of my parents were the intrinsic force that had ever propelled my work. My siblings, all of them were with me round the clock till the completion of this work.

With all tenderness, I thank my husband Mr. Philip Kuruvilla, for being there by my side throughout. It was a wonderful treasure, that my daughter Shaino who has been growing along with this, could fiddle all the alphabets and numbers accurately for me at the end of this task. Shlomo, the gift of God and a peaceful presence at this strenuous time. Remember you kudos!

I thank my mother in law, sister in law, and nephews; they made my hands freer to work hard for this venture.

Mrs. Thankamma and Mrs. Kunjumol, both of them were really helpful at the finishing stage.
