I can’t complete my expression of gratitude without mentioning my thanks to my beloved wife Sejal for her constant encouragement and steadfast support of my “illusions, aspirations and dreams”, and my kids Varun and Yukta whose precious little smiles and many untold sacrifices have given a new meaning to my life. I will always be indebted to the silent support they provided in my pain and pleasure.

I am also thankful to my brother, sisters and their family for giving me moral support during this tenure. Finally, I would like to acknowledge the living god of this world i.e. my loving and caring parents, who have provided me all sorts of help for pursuing my studies.

Lastly I am dedicating this achievement to my late mother, Mrs. Anandgaori H Mehta, as her dream of making one of her sibling a doctor inspired me to pursue higher study in my life. It’s my bad luck that at this juncture of my life she is not present in this world to celebrate this moment with me.
